IN RAGS AND JAGS

The Race Into Oklahoma Occurred To-day.

The Rush for Homes in the Promised Land.

"Sooners" on the Scene at an Early Hour.

Water Selling for a Quarter a Glass.

Much Suffering is Sure to Follow the Wild Raid That is Being Made by Thirty Thousand People.

Guthrie, O. T., Sept. 22.—"A horse, a horse," my pile for a horse," is the cry that goes up from hundreds of disappointed men and women who have arrived here on the trains and cannot get transportation to the new lands. Many have given up and will leave, but scores have started out to walk the 15 miles in the hot sun.

One old colored man, accompanied by his wife and 14 children, are now trudging valiantly over the long, dreary strip, hoping to get homes in the new Eldorado.

Couriers from the different county seats say the surveys cannot be finished before Friday night, and thousands will be camped around each by that time.

The supply of water is already short, and before the week is out water will be worth 25 cents a glass there.

The locations of the town sites are miserable and there is already a movement on foot to move the towns by force to better locations.

At Langston the negroes are getting restless and trouble will surely occur between the races.

At Topee one man was killed last night and as hundreds are drunk there will be shooting there to-day.

Five thousand people are gathered on the streets here preparing to leave for the line and fully 30,000 are already there.

OVER A MILLION ACRES.

Thousands Are Already in the Promised Land.

Guthrie, O. T., Sept. 22.—The land to be opened for settlement consists of the country of the Sacs and Foxes, 472,000 acres; of the Iowas, 229,559 acres, and of the Pottawattomies, 400,000 acres—in all, 1,101,559 acres. Some of this is adapted for raising as fine crops as any land, and some of it, fertilized with tin cans, would afford excellent pasturage for goats. The Indians do not lose all their land. Each buck gets a quarter section, and not only that, but he is a lawful "sooner," and has already picked out the prize spots. He can not sell his land for 25 years, but during that time he does not have to pay any taxes.

After the Indian land and the land held for school purposes have been deducted from the 1,101,559 acres, about 800,000 acres are opened for actual settlement. This makes 5,000 homesteads, and about 20 men for every homestead are on the ground. Some are hovering along the line and some are already in what is until noon the forbidden country.

It is the old Oklahoma rush over again with some modifications. There are not as many boomers and a smaller number of them are in wagons. For the last week, however, there has been an almost continuous stream of wagons over the Santa Fe trail across the Cherokee strip, and there are wagons all around the border.

The rush over the railroad has been just the same. The big crowds for the last three days have packed the aisles of the cars. They look like the same men who came to Oklahoma at its opening.

A composite picture of the whole "outfit" would represent a young man with a harvest-field complexion and a white felt hat drawn down so as to bend his ears. He would have a 4-year-old yellow moustache and a 4-days-old beard.

He would have blue eyes and he would sport a red cotton handkerchief, just as sure as he would have a big revolver. All the little scenes are much the same during the rush to Oklahoma.

In the crowds on the train there is the man from Arkansas with his fiddle and the man with the gray beard, and the man with the red nose, who dances in the aisle of the car.

There is the man who shoots his gun out of the window, the man from Missouri who consults his bottle, and the mother with a baby that cries.

As the train runs through the strip the emigrants are greeted with a sight that seems to delight them. On both sides of the road the grass is burning. Cattlemen swear lustily to hear them cheer the sight of burning grass and express the wish that every head of cattle in the strip might be burned. The grass is not quite dry enough to burn well yet, but it will undoubtedly be all fired as soon as it does dry enough. The settlers are very bitter against the "cowmen."

Guthrie is a lively town. The streets are crowded, the hotels are overrun, the saloons are doing a rushing business, and at every street corner cowboys are selling ponies. They are asking big money for them, too, and getting it. The men who rushed into Oklahoma are disposing of their horses and the wagons they used to excellent advantage.

Every few minutes an outfit leaves for the line. The nearest point of the new country is only a little over nine miles from Guthrie, and the greatest crowd will enter from near this point, but the truth is the greater part of the crowd is not waiting to enter.

The country is already full of "sooners." The plan is for one man to go in and "jump" a claim and then turn it over to a partner, who starts in after the legal hour. Thus, between them, they get a good claim. There will be a great rush for town lots.

The new country will be divided into two counties, and the government has selected the sites for the county seats, although there is now not even the shadow of a town in either county. Both towns have been named. The one that is to be the county seat of the northern county is Chandler, named for the assistant secretary of the interior, and the southern town is Tecumseh.

H. D. Baker, of Oklahoma City, has already been appointed postmaster of the coming town of Tecumseh. This town will be located in the Pottawattomie country, 40 miles from Guthrie. Chandler will be in the Sac and Fox country, 40 miles from Guthrie.

The government surveyors are not through with their work on town sites and Gov. Steele has announced that the sites shall not be taken up until the survey is finished.

No attention will be paid to this, however, and the force of soldiers on the ground will not be large enough to keep them off. A crowd of Guthrie men has been orgaized to move on Chandler.

Every one is going. The cooks have deserted the stoves; the lawyers their offices, and the merchants their stores. The town site of Chandler is said to be a poor one and those who rush there will suffer for a drink of water until wells are dug. The plan of the Guthrie men is to get a quarter section just west of the town site and throw the town over there.

Men enough will rush to Chandler, however, to take the lots for a city of 20,000 and it is hard to see how the place can support more than 10,000 people for many years. Many are bound to be disappointed, whether they go for lots or quarter sections, for there are at least 20,000 people waiting for the hat to drop at noon.

The first victim to suffer at the hands of the boomers of the new territory is Al Glazier, a Santa Fe conductor, who was badly cut and otherwise injured this morning by an enraged mob on his train. Some of the boomers had no tickets, and Glazier demanded the extra ten cents levied in such cases. This caused trouble. A number of the rioters were arrested and are in jail at Mulvane.

JUGS AND BOTTLES

Mark the Onward Progress of the Boomer.

Guthrie, O. T., Sept. 22—The day of opening has arrived and the surging mass of humanity on the line awaits with impatience the coming of high noon, when, at a given signal they will start on a wild pell mell rush for the promised land.

Fily 40,000 people are on the line, and there will be a wild scramble for the 6,000 claims and 4,000 town lots.

A crowd of nearly 3,000 in camp at Topee will start in a body for the new county seat of Chandler. They declare that they will not wait till Friday for the survey to be completed, but will take the town by force to-night, and if they fail in this they will found a town to-morrow on the adjoining section.

The company of soldiers at the town have orders to shoot and blood will flow freely if the attempt is made.

At Perkins 5,000 people are fighting and struggling to get on the bridge crossing the Cimarron river, and when the signal is given to go many will be crushed on the bridge if it does not give way and precipitate them into the river.

At Langston the negroes are getting very excited. The sight of a gang of cowboys camped near by inflames their anger and mutterings are heard on every side.

At Cimarron City five hundred Presbyterians, led by a tall, raw-boned preacher, are waiting to be led into the land of promise by their modern Messiah.

At the Sac and Fox agency on the east side the crowd is turbulent, several men having been killed already. Along the line whisky jugs and bottles are plenty and many men are now intoxicated. The 100 deputy marshals and the handful of soldiers are unable to do anything with the crowd.

The number of women on horseback is remarkably large, and fully 20 per cent. of the claims will be seized by the fair sex.

In this city everything is deserted. Stores are closed and doctors, lawyers, preachers and everybody have gone to the new Eldorado.

The boomers bought so many supplies that a provision famine now exists. Hundreds of men who arrived on the midnight train could not get conveyances and are walking to the line, while scores slept in the streets.

What the Black Man Wants.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 22.—The excitement among the negroes has promised to outrival that of the opening of Oklahoma territory. Several hundred negroes left here last night for the Indian Territory. They were accompanied by several prominent negroes and will form a settlement of their own. Trouble is feared as the negroes are determined to secure land adjoining one another and thus prevent the whites from invading their settlement. Should they be unable to do this rightly, they will use force to accomplish their ends.

Single Entry.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Secretary Noble to-day received a telegram from Gov. Steele, of Oklahoma, stating that town site companies had been organized at Guthrie for the purpose of entering the two new county seats as town sites to the exclusion of single entry men. The secretary has directed the governor to see that this purpose of the town site companies is not consummated. No such enteries will be permitted, and single entry men will be fully sustained. This action was taken after consultation with the officers of the department, all of whom agree that such entry cannot be legal.

RAIDED BY OUTLAWS.

New York, Sept. 22.—The Herald's City of Mexico correspondent telegraphs that he has interviewed the secretary of war in regard to the reported revolution in the northern provinces of Mexico, and that that official assures him that there is nothing even resembling a revolution in that section. The secretary has reports that Caterino Garcia, editor of a small paper in Texas, has crossed into Mexico with some 40 men who are outlawed for horse stealing on both sides of the border, but they will undoubtedly be captured.

RAN AWAY WITH A MAID.

Dr. Schlitz Astonishes New York People.

Rosie Gobel Came Into His House as a Servant and Now His Home is Wrecked.

New York, Sept. 22.—Dr. Francis A. Schlitz, a wealthy practitioner in Brooklyn, who lived with his wife and child at No. 811 Willoughby street, Brooklyn, is missing.

He is believed to have eloped with 23-year-old Rosie Gobel, a former servant in his family, who has also disappeared.

The doctor is about 45 years old, of fine physique, and had a practice which brought him an annual income of $15,000.

Rosie Gobel was employed as a domestic by the family about three years ago. She is unattractive in appearance, but unusually intelligent, and had not been in the family long when the doctor became infatuated with her. Soon the doctor and the girl showed a fondness for each other's company.

The doctor's wife noticed their behavior and remonstrated with her husband, but he coolly told her that he was infatuated with the servant and nothing would separate him from her.

Shortly after this Rosie refused to do only a part of the housework, telling Mrs. Schlitz she would have to do the rest. When the wife recovered from her astonishment she ordered the girl to leave the house. This was about a year ago. Since the girl left, the doctor has often absented himself from home and has often berated his wife for driving the girl from the house.

Two weeks ago he left the house. His wife found a note from him stating that he had left her forever. The girl Rosie, is also missing, and it is believed thy have gone away together. Mrs. Schlitz will immediately begin proceedings for divorce.

CORNERED HIM IN CORN.

"Deacon" White Has Made an Assignment.

He Banked Too Heavily on the Wrong Side.

Rumors Flying Thick and Fast That Other Houses Will Follow in the Wake of Disaster.

New York, Sept. 22.—The fact that a big Wall street house would fail today was predicted by a morning paper, but the story was not admitted before the opening of the exchange. When a reporter saw Mr. White at 9 o'clock he was surrounded by a number of people in his office and it was evident that all was not well.

He, however, met the reporter blandly and said there was no truth in the report.

The paper, however, containing the story of the impending crash was widely circulated around town, and when the exchange opened everybody was in a feverish state.

The first signs of the crash was when Ontario & Western opened at 22 1-4 and immediately declined to 20 3-4. St. Paul opened at 75 3-4 and declined to 75. Delaware & Lackawanna opened at 81 44 3-4, declined at 81 44.

Then followed a general depression, and right on the heels of it came the announcement from S. V. White & Co. of their assignment.

The reason given was that there was a corner in the corn deal and their interest in the stock market was very limited.

As a matter of fact the firm was long on 11,000,000 bushels of September corn, which Chicago operators pulled down from 68 7-8 to 53 in 10 days.

The story went that there was another firm mixed up and that S. V. White & Co. were carrying some of their paper. This, however, was denied by the firm in question.

The excitement is intense and the wildest sort of rumors are flying thick and fast.

It is just 15 years since "Deacon" White failed before.

Mr. Edmund Clarence Steadman, the banker poet, came down to Mr. White's office immediately, on the ground of his great friendship, and made the following statement to the reporters:

"This trouble is due entirely to the great decline in corn. For two or three months past the firm has been very long of corn contracts in the September option. The good weather has produced such heavy crops that there was more corn in the country than was probably known. No assignment has as yet been made but one is in process of making.

"I do not know who the assignee will be. The liabilities or assets are not known, the whole thing has come so suddenly. The failure will affect no other house or houses in the slightest degree whatever. Knowing of their difficulty, S. V. White & Co. have not taken any large contracts of late. They have acted with the greatest honor all through.

"The stock operations of the firm have of late been very small. They have not more than a few hundred shares outstanding on the board. They have confined themselves entirely to corn, in which late deliveries have been very heavy.

"Any one who knows S. V. White knows that he will resume. You can't down him. There is no one in Wall street who does not sympathize with Mr. White. He helped more men than anybody else on the street.

"If everybody on the street whom he has helped should give him $5 he would again be a rich man. He has acted in absolute honor, and I have no doubt will be all right in the end. I am much distressed."

The announcement of the failure was made in Chicago simultaneously with the announcement here. The members of the New York house are S. V. White and F. W. Hopkins. The Chicago branch consists of S. V. White, F. W. Hopkins, A. W. Allen and Arthur White. The firm's corn contracts have been mostly in Chicago.

FELT IN PITTSBURG.

New York, Sept. 22.—It was reported that Rea Brothers & Co., of Pittsburg, have failed on account of the S. V. White failure. They are members of the stock yards.

THEY TELL A STRANGE YARN

Samuel Thornton Turns Up in Florida.

He Was in Bathing With His Sister-in-Law and They Were Washed Out to Sea.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 22.—Samuel Thornton, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and his sister-in-law, Miss Ada Jewell, of the same city, are in this city and if the story they tell is true, they have had one of the most marvelous escapes from death on record. Thornton was seen by a United Press representative to whom he told the following tale:

"On the afternoon of August 27 Miss Jewell and myself went in bathing at Coney Island. There was a very strong undertow that day and we were carried out to sea. Both of us could swim and after floating around for a while we fortunately came across a floating log.

"On this we drifted about until nearly dark when a Spanish barque bound for a South American port, picked us up. Miss Jewell immediately collapsed from exhaustion on reaching the deck of the vessel. This was followed by an attack of fever and she was delirious for five days.

"None of the crew of the vessel could speak English. On Sept. 9th we were transferred to another Spanish vessel, bound for Yucatan. On the morning of Sunday, Sept. 21st, we were set ashore on a barren beach twenty miles from this city, which place we reached by walking."

Mr. Thornton has telegraphed his brother in Brooklyn for money with which to take passage home. Miss Jewell confirms her brother-in-law's story, but a remarkable part of the case is that neither can remember the names of the vessels or those of their captains. Both have stood their alleged hardships well.

With a Grain of Suspicion.

New York, Sept. 22.—Wm. Thornton, brother of Samuel Thornton, the Brooklyn baker who, together with his sister-in-law, Ada Jewell, disappeared mysteriously from Coney Island three weeks ago, yesterday received a dispatch purporting to have come from the missing man in Jacksonville, Fla. The message was as follows:

'Both safe. Had narrow escape. Were carried out to sea. Want money to get clothes and return. Send $50.

"SAMUEL THORNTON."

Wm. Thornton is skeptical and has telegraphed for particulars.

Key to the Situation.

New York, Sept. 22.—S. W. Thornton has wired from Jacksonville, Fla., the correct combination of his safe, and his brother and other relatives are satisfied of his identity. His story that while bathing at Coney Island with his sister-in-law August 27 they were carried out to sea and picked up by a schooner which landed them on the Florida coast is now believed.

WANTS TO WED A COUNT.

Miss Babette Fleischman Astonished New York

By Her Desire to Marry Her Fencing Master.

The Great Yeast Maker Rises in His Wrath and Sends His Daughter to Cincinnati.

New York, Sept. 22.—Miss Babette Fleischmann, the 19-year-old daughter of Charles Fleischmann, the millionaire yeast manufacturer and baker, is going to marry an aleged count. She is in love with her fencing master and means to marry him despite her parents' objections.

The lucky man in the case is Louis Logotetty, or Count Logotetty, as he calls himself. He came to this country about three years ago to give fencing lessons, and about two years ago he entered the service of Mr. Fleischmann to teach Miss Babette the use of foils. He taught her only too well, and now, despite the continued opposition of Mr. and Mrs. Fleischmann, the young couple are engaged to be married.

Miss Babette is an only daughter, and every care has been lavished on her. She is an accomplished musician and speaks German and French fluently. For several years she has been prominent in social circles. When the craze for fencing became epidemic about two years ago Mrs. Fleischmann decided that Babette should have a teacher. Through a mutual friend the "count" was introduced to Mr. Fleischmann, and on the strength of the assertion that he had served in the Austrian army Mr. Fleischmann immediately engaged him.

The young people were together a great deal naturally, and, as events have proved their association was mutually agreeable. While in the Catskills the "count" and Miss Babette went riding frequently, and they were very much together at Saratoga and Long Branch.

Miss Babette did not receive many fencing lessons at either of the latter places, but excused the presence of the "count" to her parents by explaining that he was a riding master as well as an instructor of fencing, and incidentally remarked that she was desirous of becoming an accomplished equestrienne. This explanation satisfied the parents for a time.

The family returned last week on their way to the Catskills. When they reached the city Miss Babette informed her parents that she had decided to marry the "count" and was at the time engaged to him.

Mr. Fleischmann stormed and his wife pleaded, but without avail. Petite Miss Babette had made up her mind, and come what would she intended to marry the "count." The young lady was hurried off to Cincinnati and the count went with Louis Fleischmann to the Catskills, where they still remain.

Miss Babette would not go to Cincinnati until she was promised that if the "count's" antecedents proved to be what he claimed they were she might marry him. Mr. Fleischmann cabled on Thursday to Vienna for information concerning the count, but has not yet received an answer.

The count furnished the addresses of people who would vouch for him and is philosophically awaiting the answer at the Catskills.

The history of the Fleischmann house is an interesting one. The two brothers, Louis and Charles, came here from Austria about twenty years ago and opened a small bakery. They made an exhibit of their bread at the centennial exposition and so well was their product thought of that they received first prize. Their business grew rapidly, and soon they had stores in Philadelphia, New York and Boston, and acquired money rapidly.

FOSTER ON THE STUMP.

He Will Open His Campaign in Toledo.

The Secretary of the Treasury May Explain to the People How He is Covering Up the Deficiency.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Secretary Foster will go to Ohio about the first of October to assist Major McKinley in his campaign in that state. He will be gone about ten days and will make half a dozen speeches, commencing at Toledo.

After that his movements will depend on the judgment of the state executive committee. The secretary says that republican victory in Ohio is assured, that there is a unanimous sentiment among Ohio republicans that cannot be divided by any third party movement; that the pepole of Ohio are enjoying a campaign this year that is something in the nature of an educatio for them, and that they have learned and are learning every day, lessons relative to the republican doctrine of protective tariff.

BEAT CLOSED THE SCHOOLS.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 22.—The school board announces that on account of excessive heat, the city schools, including the high school, will be closed.

OHIO'S COLLEGE FUND.

Seventeen Thousand Dollars Received from Uncle Sam.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—State Treasurer Brown has received from the United States treasurer a draft for $17,000, being the remittance made under the act of congress, approved August 30, 1890, for the benefit of colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts.

Treasurer Brown was somewhat surprised by the receipt of the draft, as the act passed last winter by the Ohio legislature prescribes that the treasurer of the State University shall receive the money.

Upon investigation Mr. Brown found that the act of congress referred to, directs that the payment shall be made to the state treasurer.

The state and congressional acts, therefore, conflict on the point as to who shall receive the money. Treasurer Brown will satisfactorily adjust the question by turning over the draft to the treasurer of the university.

The congressional allowance, it will be remembered, is to be increased $1,000 each year, and next year the amount will be $18,000. The payment should have been paid by the United States treasurer last July instead of to-day, to have been in strict compliance with the congressional act.

PANIC IN A HALL.

Queer Accident at an Entertainment in Columbus.

Columbus, O., September 22.—A gas bag attached to a magic lantern exploded at the Masonic cathedral last night during a G. A. R. entertainment, and created a panic.

All the lights were blown out, and the large crowd in the auditorium rushed hither and thither in the darkness. The flesh was torn from the left forearm of Thomas McNaughten, a member of the Fourteenth Regiment band, and he was rendered almost totally deaf.

Dr. J. C. Krosen, who was operating the instrument, was blown across the room. He was badly stunned and bruised but not seriously injured. A number of others were slightly bruised and several ladies fainted.

ARMY CHANGES.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The president has approved the sentence of dismissal from the army, imposed on Lieut.-Col. C. C. Miner, of the Ninth infantry, for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

In the case of First Lieutenant F. D. Sharp, Twentieth infantry, found guilty of drunkenness by court martial and sentenced to dismissal, the president has commuted his sentence to suspension from rank and command on half pay for one year, on his promise to abstain in the future from the use of intoxicants.

In the case of Ensign W. S. Cloake, U. S. N., sentenced to dismissal by court martial for intoxication and absence after expiration of leave, the president has, on the recommendation of Secretary Tracy, mitigated the sentence to suspension from rank and duty on furlough pay for two years and to retain his present number in his grade during that time.

BRYAN NOTES.

Bryan, Sept. 22.—(Special)—Mrs. L. D. Clock, who had a tumor removed a few weeks ago, died at her residence, East High street, yesterday.

Mrs. Rhoda McDaniel, who was here on a visit, died at the residence of W. E. Stough yesterday.

Miss Jessie Young died of diphtheria at her home in Farmer. She was buried at sundown Sunday. Several other cases of diphtheria are reported from that locality.

PHOEBE GETS HER CASH.

Washington, Sept. 22.—A voucher for $82 42 in favor of Phoebe Couzins for salary from April 1 to April 15 as secretary of the board of lady managers of the world's fair, was received at the treasury department to-day. It was approved by Bertha H. M. Palmer as president of the board. Miss Couzins was deposed from her position on April 15. This voucher will be paid and will close Miss Couzins' connection with the world's fair.

THE REBELS IN CONTROL.

A Sad Blow Struck at the Sultan.

The Capture of Sana Causing Alarm.

An English Captain Ordered Out of Prussian Territory by the Czar's Government.

London, Sept. 22.—The news of the capture of Sana by the rebels in Yemen, is, says a Constantinople dispatch, almost a stunning blow to the sultan who, for weeks past, has been plunged in anxiety over the situation in Arabia.

Western Europeans are hardly capable of appreciating the sultan's feelings on this subject, but to him the fate of Arabia is of more importance, even, than that of Constantinople.

Should he lose control of the Holy cities of the Mohammedan faith, he would be divested of all prestige, and become an object of contempt and abhorrence to his subjects.

His anxiety regarding this matter is so strong that it has nearly driven him insane.

Sana is the key to Yemen, and the loss of it is almost an overwhelming blow to Turkish supremacy in that rich and fertile province, and may lead to the loss of all Arabia.

That country now contains several emirs who ignore the authority of the porte and if these should unite against Turkey, the sultan would have a difficult war on his hands.

The Turkish troops in Yemen went there without provosions or money, with orders to live on the country. They won some successes at first, but, probably disheartened by their own condition, they appear to have lost ground.

Should Arabia be separated from the porte the religious passion that such an event would excite would, in the opinion of Europeans at Constantinople, imperil the life, as well as the throne of the sultan.

Jealous of His Movements.

London, Sept. 22.—Russia, which claims absolute supremacy over the region, has excluded the English captain, Younghusband, from entering Little Pamir, in Central Asia.

Pamir is an extensive table land of Central Asia.

The plateau forms the central node, whence radiate the principal mountain ranges of Asia. It has a scanty population and an almost Arctic climate. It is mainly under Russian authority.

SUES FOR A DIVORCE.

Musical Lovers have a Discordant Time.

Norwalk, O., Sept. 22.—Dyas Flanagan Seiflet arrived in Norwalk Saturday from Berlin, Germany, to visit her mother, Mrs. Josephene Flanagan, on important business. Mrs. Seiflet, who is well known in the musical circle of New York, went to Berlin, Germany, two years ago to pursue her musical studies as a pianist. While there she fell in company with a music teacher named Emil Seiflet. After a peculiar curtship she married him. Seiflet turned out to be an adventurous rascal. As a sequel to her unhappy married life this afternoon she filed a bill in the Huron county common pleas court for divorce, charging Seiflet with fraud in the marriage contract and assault and battery. Mrs. Seiflet is well known throughout northern Ohio, as well as in New York, Chicago and Cleveland, as an accomplished pianist.

WHAT FISH DO EXIST.

Another Swindling Scheme Exposed.

Hard Working Men Give Up Their Cash.

In This Case, as in All Others, They Expect to Get Back $5 for Every One They Spend.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 22.—L. W. Naylor, postoffice inspector from Washington, who has been in the city for the past few days, has brought to light a big swindling scheme which has been in operation in this section of the state for some time.

The scheme is said to have been operated by a gang, of which Robert F. Lively, the son of a clergyman near Spring Hill, is the leader, and Henry Ash, of this neighborhood, and others are confederates.

Rose and Ash have already been arrested and are held in $3,000 bond each to answer for using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Lively is now hiding in the woods, armed with a Winchester and two revolvers, but deputy marshals are after him and he will, in all probability, join his confederates.

Their operations have been carried on in Kanawha, Boone and Lincoln counties, and several thousand dollars have gone from the hard-earned savings of the poor people. Lively and his associates converted themselves into an association known as the National Assembly, a secret organization.

To membership of this society they admitted such of their friends as they supposed to be perfectly reliable and in possession of a little money. The organization was of the most secret character. Their meetings were held out under the trees, in deep ravines, or on the mountain side.

A solemn oath of secrecy was administered to every member, and thus the existence of the swindle was kept a secret for some time. The organization was supposed to be a national one, with its central office at Washington and branches all over the country.

Four "assemblies" were organized in this state, known respectively as the St. Albans, Lincoln county, Boone county, and Charleston assemblies. The inducements for entering the assemblies were the opportunity they afforded their members to make money rapidly and in a lawful and safe manner.

The swindlers made up a story about the great quantity of government bonds that were soon to fall due, which were payable in gold, the vast exportations of gold to foreign countries, and the consequent inability of the government to meet the payments of the bonds.

The swindlers then went on to say that, in order to save the nation's credit and meet the payment of the bonds when they fell due, the government must raise the gold; that while it had little gold it had plenty of greenbacks, and that it would pay for every dollar in gold five dollars in paper. The object of the national assembly was to raise the gold required by the government, and its assemblies all over the country were gathering in the gold, sending it on to the change office at Washington, through which all the operations were carried on, and getting back in bank notes five times what they sent to Washington.

The C. & O. railway have been paying off in gold, so it was an easy matter to raise considerable coin. One assembly alone sent in over $1,000 in hard cash. The money was all gathered up by the officers, to be by them sent to Washington.

When the members of the assemblies thought it time to be getting back some money they kicked, but the officers were ready for them. They exhibited letters from the imaginary national secretary of the order and from the president of the "change office" explaining the delay, and telling them to wait patiently.

In Charleston, where the people are supposed to be somewhat more enlightened than they are in the country, the secret organization feature of the swindle was dropped. The proposition to exchange gold for five times its amount was made by the men, merely as friends of the victims, who were on the inside and were willing to put the victims in the right way to accumulate a fortune because of their friendship for them.

One poor fellow, a hard working colored man, had laid up $150. Rose got to talking to him and said he was willing to show him an opportunity to make some money more easily than he had been doing.

He then told him the story about Uncle Sam's embarrassment. The fellow took it all in, drew out $100 and let Rose send it to the Washington office. In a short time he got a reply, saying that they did not receive less than $200 at a time, and could fill no order for less than $1,000 in paper.

The colored man drew out his remaining $50 more, and had it sent on. He heard no more from it, and was advised by Rose to send to one of Rose's friends on to Washington to investigate. He then paid $19 ostensibly to send to Washington to investigate and is now out $219 out.

Mr. Naylor and the authorities have a good deal of information about the case, which they will not give away at present, but they have sufficient evidence to give the guilty men a pretty good term in the penitentiary, it is said.

AT THE PENITENTIARY.

One Prisoner Dies and Another Is Pardoned.

Columbus, O., Sept. 22.—John Berryhill, one of the Indian prisoners at the penitentiary, died at 5:30 last evening of consumption, superinduced by the change from outdoor life to constant confinement. He was received April 3, 1890, from the western district of Arkansas to serve four years for larceny.

Pardon papers signed by President Harrison were received by Warden Dyer today, granting executive clemency, after nine months' imprisonment, to G. L. Armstrong, who was received on a two years sentence from the eastern district of Tennessee for violating the postal laws.

He will be released on October 23.

He was pardoned because of his previous good reputation, and as all losses to the government have been made good.

JONES, HE REMAINED AWAY.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The Citizens' alliance held a barbecue here. Lieut.-Gov. Jones, who had been invited to speak, sent a letter of regret owing to another engagement. He adds: "I can only say that I am in full accord with any movement that seeks to secure to every human being his rights."

Secretary Spaulding, of the Farmers' league, says it was the plan of the alliance to have named Mr. Jones for governor, but he has declined to allow his name to be used.

LIVERY STABLE BURNED.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—Fire destroyed Hinde & Whipple's livery stable, 314 Easton avenue, which contained 150 horses and 75 carriages. Five horses and all the vehicles were burned. The loss is $30,000; insurance $5,800. Loss on building $9,000; fully insured. Frank Beene, a carriage driver, who was sleeping over the office, was suffocated by smoke.

HANDSOME BUT ERRATIC.

Pretty Gertrude Potter Marries Once More.

Publicly Weds the Man She Secretly Vowed to Take.

Romance in the Career of One of Chicago's Most Accomplished Ladies Which Reads Like Fiction.

New York, Sept. 22.—Miss Gertrude W. Potter's marriage to young Lee Rust was annulled in the Chicago court last week, and hardly had the ink on the legal documents dried when she was married to Julius Clarke Daniels, of New York, who had already once married the girl, at which time both parties to the marital contract used assumed names.

Julius Clarke Daniels, who has twice married the pretty and erratic Gertrude Potter, is the only child of George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central railroad.

For the last year he has been living with his parents at the Barrett house on upper Broadway. Daniels is a handsome and popular young man, of steady habits and literary tastes. He has been connected with the comic weekly Judge for some time, and was regarded as a clever writer.

The clerks at the Barrett house speak of him in the highest terms. They were extremely surprised when a reporter informed them last night of his marriage. He had never spoken of it to anyone so far as could be learned. He left the hotel for Chicago last Thursday, and said to the head clerk: "If any telegrams come for me keep them shady." Evidently he did not care to have his father open them.

That fact is regarded as evidence that he did not know himself when he left New York that he was to be married again to the young woman who was already his wife. Mr. Daniels, Sr., and Mrs. Daniels followed him to Chicago the next day, having received a telegram from him notifying them of his approaching nuptials.

Julius Clarke Daniels met Gertrude Potter in Elgin, Ill., about two years ago and fell in love with her. He was then just 21 years old and she 19. Her father Orrin W. Potter is the millionaire president of the North Chicago Rolling Mills company and the presiding officer of a big iron and steel combination in the west, owning mills in Chicago, Milwaukee, Joliet and other cities. He was down in Rochester, this state, and went west with a surveying party.

Gertrude Potter is a handsome brunette of a sylph-like figure. Her hair is dark and curly and her eyes large, dark and wistful. When animated she sparkles with vivacity, but in repose her features have a dreamy, melancholy look. She is an accomplished young woman, and by her friends was reckoned as the most highly cultivated young lady in Chicago.

She attended the Chicago Conservatory of music for two or three years. She sings well, plays the piano and violin, fences, speaks French and is well read in English literature. In addition to these accomplishments she has marked dramatic talent and frequently appears in amateur performances.

She shocked some of her friends about a year ago by appearing at Hooley's theater in Chicago in tights. The performance was one for charity, and if it had been repeated the house would have proved too small for the audience. Everybody had heard of her and everybody was curious to see her.

Her name was brought prominently before the public by the rumor that she was in love with a newspaper carrier named Eugene Dunnivant. Dunnivant was a handsome young fellow who lived near the Potters and served the family with the morning papers. The daughter of the millionaire was frequently seen in the company of the poor newsboy, and Mr. Potter did what he could to prevent their meeting. They continued to do so clandestinely, however, and it was reported at the time that Mr. Potter tried threats and bribes, but to no purpose. Young Dunnivant could not be bought off. He said he loved Gertrude and no money could induce him to give her up. At last the young fellow was arrested on the charge of stealing some clothes, and on the testimony of a young man who was with him at the time of the arrest was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years.

His companion, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to the house of correction for one year, but was released soon after he began to serve his term. It was currently reported that the charge against Dunnivant was trumped up in order to get him out of the way. After he was liberated he began a suit for $100,000 damages against Mr. Potter.

The case has never been tried and Dunnivant is in California, living, it is reputed, on the bounty of the man he sued.

But the strangest part of this un que romance in real life was never known until yesterday.

It seems that Julius Clarke Daniels and Gertrude Potter decided to get married away back in 1889. On December 21 of that year the young man secured a license from the county clerk of Cook county under the name of Julius Clarke to marry Gertrude White.

Both were afraid to let their parents know of the proceeding, and for that reason did not give their real names. Miss Potter's full name was Gertrude Whitney Potter.

The next day, New Year's day, 1890, they were married in St. Paul's church, Chicago, by the Rev. R. A. Johns, pastor. They continued to live at their respective homes, and finally young Daniels came to New York.

About this time another young man appeared on the scene. He was F. Lee Rust, son of W. A. Rust, the Wisconsin lumber king. Rust was a Harvard student and spent a part of his vacation at Lake Geneva, where the Potters have a palatial country seat. He had seen Gertrude in tights on the Hooley's and followed her to her summer home.

"Hubby" Daniels was away in New York, and the ardent Gertrude began to feel an attachment for the student. She consulted a Chicago lawyer, it is said, and was informed that as she and Daniels had been married under assumed names, the marriage was not legal. When Rust proposed to her she told him this, she now says. Then they were married by the Rev. Father M. J. Ward, of Lake Geneva.

This marriage was also kept secret. It took place on June 6 last, and the couple accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Potter on a trip to Europe. They did not live as man and wife, though, and not a hint was ever given to the parents of either party. Why so much secrecy was observed can be attributed only to a strong vein of mystery and romance in the young lady.

The parents knew nothing of the affair until a week ago, when the facts were published. Father Ward declared that he had performed the ceremony. Steps were immediately taken to have the marriage annulled. Mr. Rust took the lead in the matter, but Mr. Potter was in thorough accord with him.

The proceedings were held before Judge Horton, of Chicago, and were secret. He declared that the marriage was void, and immediately left the city. The testimony is expected to prove sensational when it is made public, if it ever is.

When the parents of the young woman learned of her former marriage with Daniels they insisted upon her going through another ceremony with him.

The young couple will leave this week for a bridal tour through Europe.

DUTY ON LOGS.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 22.—It is reported that the government intends to reimpose an export duty on logs. A deputation of lumbermen will urge the government that this step be not taken as it would imperil the trade.

HARD LINES IN RUSSIA.

A Count Who Escaped with His Life.

Boston, Sept. 22.—Norig Iarovitz, who claims that at one time he was a wealthy Russian banker, is in the city in a destitute condition. He gives a harrowing tale of his hardships in Russia.

He says that one night while giving a party to some friends his house was raided by a body of Russian soldiers and he was arrested on the charge of being a nihilist.

His son, who was present, escaped by jumping from the window. The elder Iarovitz was tried and sentenced to five years imprisonment.

While he and a number of others were on the way to the place in which they were to be confined they were met at Kakoost by a band of nihilists led by the younger Iarovitz, who attacked the prisoners' escort and rescued the prisoners.

Iarovitz succeeded in getting across the border and after many privations reached Liverpool. The son is now in a hospital at Hamburg. The Jewish nihilist society will send the elder Iarovitz to Chicago.

THE LATE MAJOR BUNDY.

ESCAPED THE GALLOWS.

The coroner rendered a verdict Saturday of wilful murder. Kammerer was intoxicated at the time he killed his wife and it is supposed that the coroner's verdict was the cause of his suicide. He used a towel and a handkerchief with which to strangle himself.

ENGLISH LAND QUESTION,

Sir John Gorst Guarded in His Speech.

He Admits, However, That Some Definite Action Must Soon be Taken.

London, Sept. 22.—Sir John E. Gorst, political secretary for the India office, in an interview this morning upon the English land question, declined to commit himself to any definite plan for the settlement of that problem.

He said, however: "Something must be done, or a revolution is certain. I do not mean a bloody revolution, but I mean that the people will demand possession of the land they live upon. They now have the power to do and they are dissatisfied with their present lot. Consequently they will have things altered. Allotments may palliate but they will not solve the difficulty. The conservatives ought to attempt a solution that would stop emigration and keep the people from flocking into the towns. Give them an interest in the soil; that is true conservatism.

"I am now inquiring into the condition of the rural laborers and the smaller class of farmers. I am a learner and am gleaning, by personal contract, facts which will justify me in forming a definite policy upon the English land question."

It will be remembered that a recent speech of Sir John Grost, on the Indian government, created consternation in the ranks of the conservatives. On June 22 he tendered his resignation, but the matter was eventually patched up and he continued in office. His latest utterance apparently intimates that the appointment of Sir James Fergusson as postmaster general has caused him to take his present course.

The Star to-day predicts that Sir John will be the leading "tory democrat," and intimates that he is preparing to make a high offer for the rural vote.

Before her appearance at the museum she called at the office of the chief of police, where she said she intended to denounce the whole Catholic world, and for that reason she required and demanded police protection.

President Harrison on the Negro Question.

He Takes Kindly to the Scheme to Hustle the Black Man Off to Africa.

Boston, Sept. 22.—Bishop Turner, of the African M. E. church, who is going to Africa in the interest of the movement for the emigration of negroes from America to that country, said in a lecture last night that he recently had a conversation with President Harrison in regard to this movement, and that the latter expressed surprise at the little interest the colored people took in the matter.

During the conversation Bishop Turner suggested that congress make an appropriation for the purchase of a tract of land in Africa and appoint a commission of seven colored men and five whites to carry on the negotiations.

ISSUES AND NOT MEN.

Empire State Politics Reviewed.

Gov. Hill no Longer Cracks the Whip.

The Democracy of the State Has the Interest of the Party Too Much at Heart to be Run by Any Machine.

Albany, Sept. 22.—The state convention which was held at Saratoga on the 15th and 16th marked a new departure in the history of the party in this state.

While nearly all of the delegates were elected as friendly to Gov. Hill, and while many of the contesting delegates friendly to ex-President Cleveland were not seated, yet the convention was really in the hands of some of the old leaders of the party who had thought the matter over and decided that harmony within their ranks was far better than to have the constant irritation that has taken place in the past between the friends of the two men named.

For several years Gov. Hill has been the one power within the party to which all powers deferred.

The republicans are making an aggressive campaign, especially through Fassett, their nominee for governor, against what they call "Hillism." To eliminate that particular phrase of democracy from the campaign it was thought best for the leaders to assert themselves and announce to Gov. Hill that they would carry on the campaign themselves.

This only meant that Gov. Hill would henceforth be one of the several leaders to shape the fortunes of the party, instead of being the single leader as he had been since 1884.

Unfortunately for the personal advantage of Gov. Hill, but fortunately for the prospects of the party at large, two or three occasions arose during the convention which brought Gov. Hill in seeming antagonism to the wishes of the leaders who have now assumed control.

In the first place Gov. Hill had some time ago committed himself to Chapin for governor and to Sheehan for lieutenant governor. The practical politicians thought that Chapin would not make as strong a candidate as Fowler, and so they insisted on Fowler.

The governor stood up for Chapin until less than a week before the convention. Then he told Chapin that it had been decided to drop him, and this accounts for the action of Kings county delegates at the convention.

Since that time, however, these delegates have pledged their support to Flower, and the enemies of the party can make little capital out of what happened during the convention.

The case of Sheehan was somewhat different. The governor himself advised Sheehan not to run because he thought someone else would be a stronger candidate, although he did not name anyone in particular. Sheehan had set his heart upon the nomination and he thought he was entitled to it by reason of his past services.

So did the democratic leaders, and they nominated him in spite of Gov. Hill's objections. Both Flower and Sheehan are now backed by the best of the political workers in the party and the result in November will show that they are as strong candidates as could have been nominated.

No contest came between the governor and the leaders of the party upon candidates for the state ticket, with the exception of attorney general. In that case the governor insisted upon a very weak candidate, one who had already been beaten by 18,000 votes. The better judgment of the leaders overruled the judgment of the governor, and a much stronger candidate than the one suggested by the governor was named.

Then the governor thought it was wise to say very little or nothing in regard to the silver question. But the best minds in the party overruled him in this also, because they thought as the sentiment of the state of New York was against the free coinage of silver, the party in this state would be hurt by following the governor's desire. Hence the platform spoke out boldly on this question.

All of these contests with the governor were made in a good natured spirit, and the governor himself, in a conversation since the convention, says as much.

In spite of all these ripples upon the surface the democratic party goes into the campaign with very much greater assurances of victory than it would have had if the outcome of the convention had been wholly charged to Gov. Hill. The ticket and the platform upon which it stands are the product of the best talent in the party; and they were not dictated by one man. As a state senator who is close to Gov. Hill well expresses it:

"What we did was simply to say to Gov. Hill that several heads are wiser than one. We have allowed him to go on from year to year and shape things to suit himself. But some of us came together and agreed that it was much better for the party if its councils were attended by several men instead of by one man. Hereafter Gov. Hill will work in harmony with us, but the real leaders and workers in the party feel that they should henceforth have more to say in regard to shaping its policy than they have for a number of years past. This will do no harm to the party in this state. On the contrary, it is one of the best evidences that it proposes to carry on a winning fight this year. Of course stories will come out in regard to a lack of harmony, but on election day the wisdom of the so-called 'downing' of the governor at Saratoga will show for itself. The new departure which was made there is full of promise for the future."

A TRIP THROUGH THE WEST

What a Railroad Man Saw and Heard.

Great Crops, Immense Enterprise and Everything to Give Hope of a Prosperous Year.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Frank Thomson, first vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, returned to-day from a long trip through the northwest, undertaken partly to observe the business and railroad situation, and partly for pleasure.

In answer to inquiries Mr. Thomson said the published accounts of the enormous crops were not at all exaggerated and through the entire northwest he passed thousands of acres of wheat in perfect condition and that the crops were greater in acreage and more wheat to the acre and of better quality than ever before.

The railways, Mr. Thomson said, would be taxed to their fullest capacity for months to move this tremendous tonnage. He found the railway managers of the northwestern lines all fully alive to the situation and making every possible arrangement to meet the unusual demands upon them.

On his way westward, Mr. Thomson stopped in Chicago and he was very greatly impressed with the excellence of the plans and arrangements of the World's Columbian exposition, and he predicts without the slightest hesitation, that the Chicago world's fair will be the largest, most important and most magnificent ever held. He was particularly pleased with the scheme for interior water transportation and says it will prove to be most restful to visitors.

Mr. Thomson visited the Yellowstone park and is most enthusiastic in saying that it affords more of interest and pleasure to the traveler than any other part of our country and that a fortnight's trip from the sea coast will enable one to make the excursion with every comfort and have six days in the Yellowstone, where the arrangements for stage transportation through the park and the conveniences of the hotels are unexcelled and that the long rail ride from St. Paul over the Northern Pacific railroad is made with every possible comfort and convenience.

The changes in the far northwest, brought about by the opening of James J. Hill's Great Northern railway, Mr. Thomson says, are wonderfully striking and the extension of that line to the Pacific coast will make it one of the most prominent arteries of the traffic across the continent.

Mr. Thomson returned home more impressed with the vastness of the wealth and resources of the country than after his many previous western visits and he does not lose sight of the fact that the condition of the foreign markets will give our farmers such an opportunity as they have never had before and that the addition to the wealth of the country this year will probably be greater than any previous year in its history.

THERE WILL BE TROUBLE.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 22.—In view of the failure of the legislature to settle the convict question, serious trouble is feared at Briceville. Superintendent of Prisons Wade said this morning that he anticipated a riot. The armistice agreed upon between the government and the miners was for 60 days and Superintendent Wade said, "Look out for another uprising then. I am firmly of the opinion that the state authorities will have to send troops to Anderson county and by a decisive action suppress the miners."

CALLED HIM HOME.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Senor Benjamin Molina Guirola, the minister from Salvador, presented his letters of recall to the president this morning. The usual courtesies were exchanged.

TALK ABOUT YOUR THUGS,

The Republican Party Puts Them on the Stump.

Hanback, of Kansas, Gets Drunk, Creates a Disturbance and Rides in the Patrol Wagon.

Columbus, O., Sept. 22.—Hon. Louis Hanback, of Topeka, Ks., figured in a sensational affair in the lobby of the Neil house.

He came here last Wednesday to fill appointments on the republican stump during the McKinley campaign, but is proving somewhat of a white elephant.

Hanback and a party of friends visited the bar-room freely and by midnight he was well "corned up." He formed the acquaintance of John V. Flanigan, a well-known real estate dealer, of Columbus. Flanigan tried to get Hanback to bed and the latter took offense and called him a vile name and then slapped the Columbus gentleman.

Flanigan again backed away, but being pressed he struck Hanback, felling him to the floor. The grasshopper statesman struck the flagging and was badly cut and bled freely. Officer Rile arrested both men and sent them to the city prison in the patrol wagon.

Both were released later. There was considerable feeling against Flanigan, as Hanback was very drunk. Hanback is at his hotel and as well as usual. He is greatly bored over the affair and he and other republicans are trying to suppress the matter.

THE LAKE REGIONS

THE PREVALENCE OF CATARRH AND LUNG TROUBLES.

Something About the Nature and Result of the Disease—The Statement of Miss Schnuringer.

In the lake climate catarrh is unquestionably the cause of more deaths than any other disease. At first it is as a rule a little thing, merely a cold in the head. But in a climate like ours, one cold is not entirely cured before another follows. A succession of cold constitutes chronic catarrh. A strong and healthy constitution will suffer only inconvenience from catarrh, but all others run a great risk from what may follow. The inflammation of the nose and back part of the throat gradually extends downward, involving first the larynx and vocal cords, ruining the voice for singing, and then proceeds on its march still farther. The trachea or windpipe is next attacked; following that the large bronchial tubes; then the bronchioles; and lastly the lungs themselves. The lungs, however, are not the only sufferer, for a great deal of this nauseating mucus secreted in the back part of the throat finds its way into the stomach, disarranges digestion, and produces various forms of stomachic and intestinal dyspepsia. "A long catalogue of evils to follow such a little thing as a cold, isn't it? And yet everyone of them might happen, and every one of them does happen in hundreds and thousands of instances. The health is broken, the constitution weakened, and, although the catarrh itself may not be the actual cause of death, still indirectly, by so weakening the system that it is unable to resist the attack of other diseases, it is."

Miss Louise Schnuringer, 1631 Michigan St

That Drs. Copeland and Buffett are notably if not wonderfully successful in treating and curing catarrh in this region the columns of the daily papers show beyond a doubt. Another of the ladies to furnish direct and emphatic testimony of the results of their treatment is Miss Louise Schnuringer, 1631 Michigan street. She says:

"I had what the doctors called acute throat trouble. It started with the sore throat, which caused a continual swelling, and although under treatment it could not be reduced.

"I at first paid but little attention to it, but as I was getting no relief I began to get alarmed.

"The mucus would gather in my throat and in the head, completely stopping up the nasal passage. After this I began to experience

"TERRIBLE HEADACHES.

"At this time my throat had assumed such a condition that I could take nothing but liquid food, and on this account each day I was gradually being reduced in weight. A short time ago my mamma brought me to Drs. Copeland and Buffett and placed me in their charge, and now I am

"ENTIRELY CURED.

"No more headaches, no more dropping of mucus. I can eat well and my throat has assumed its normal condition."

The story seeming truly wonderful, the writer was induced to call upon Louise's mother. He was graciously received, and in speaking of her daughter's case, says: "Yes, what my daughter says is really true. She was almost a wreck, and we had done all we could to have her cured. Why, when she wanted a drink of water I would have to hold her ears and nose in order that she might swallow. In addition to what my daughter has said, I would add that Drs. Copeland and Buffett have done wonders in her case, and to any and all I will be only too glad to tell them of my daughter's recovery."

SOME SPICY CURRENT TOPICS

Of Local and Neighborhood Interest.

Notes and Comments on Incidents Occurring Daily—Prepared for Readers Who are Hustled for Time.

MRS. HARRINGTON FAILING.

Mrs. Judge Harrington, who has been hovering between life and death for several days, is no better to-day, and the ray of hope entertained by her friends grows dimmer hourly. She is unconscious almost all the time, and is failing fast.

INCREASING THE SERVICE.

The Robison Electric Street Car company is putting in switches and otherwise making arrangements to double the running capacity of the Huron street line. Other improvements looking towards an increase in the service is contemplated.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED.

One of the trustees of a prominent labor organization of the city has mysteriously disappeared, and the members of the union are much worried over certain money transactions in which he had a hand. It is hoped that his absence is only temporary.

THE EXCHANGE COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation for the Commercial Exchange company which was formed in Toledo a few days ago, were placed on file in Columbus yesterday and a certified copy of the same received here. The organization will be completed this week.

THE ELECTION BOOTHS.

The iron for the election booths will arrive to-morrow and will be delivered at once on the grounds located in the different precincts for this purpose. The contract for the woodwork has been let to Spaulding & Sprague, and the booths will be placed in position at once.

OFF FOR CINCINNATI.

This morning a large contingent of Toledo commandery, Knights Templar, left for Cincinnati to attend the conclave of the grand commandery. Some of the members were accompanied by their wives. A gala time is anticipated, and Toledo will, as usual, have its share.

THE SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The convention for the nomination of two senators for this district will be held at Ottawa on Thursday. Delegates will go over the C., H. & D. train, leaving at 6:45, standard time. A rate of $1.50 has been secured, and a large delegation will likely go down. Mr. L. G. Richardson is the temporary chairman of the convention.

ENTIRELY UNNECESSARY.

The ordinance passed by the board of aldermen last evening relative to the employment of home labor on the city pipe line was unnecessary, inasmuch as the contracts specially provide that Toledo labor must be employed wherever possible on city pipe line work. There are upwards of 200 citizens now employed on the line and daily demands for more.

COUNCILMANIC JAUNT.

The committee in charge are completing the arrangements for the councilmanic excursion to Detroit next Thursday, and it is the intention of the councilmen to enjoy themselves to the utmost. The jaunt is entirely for pleasure and the councilmen will forget business for the day. They will probably leave in the morning on a special car over the Michigan Central.

SALOON KEEPER FINED.

In police court this morning Judge Sala overruled the motion for a new trial in the Edward Henzler liquor case and fined him $35 and costs and sentenced him to the workhouse for 10 days. Attorney Reno noted a bill of exceptions, and execution of sentence was stayed for 20 days to give him time to file his bill of exceptions before the court of common pleas. Henzler was released on $200 bail.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

This evening the democrats of the Second, Fourth, Fifth and Ninth wards meet to further perfect their club organizations, and a large attendance is asked for. The utility of clubs in a campaign has been demonstrated in the past, and there is no good reason why Toledo democrats should not exert themselves to the utmost to aid in the work this year. With strong organizations, republicans of Lucas county at last will take to the woods. Turn out to-night, democrats.

ANOTHER TOLEDO LAWYER.

Toledo has secured another lawyer in the person of Mr. Charles E. Chittenden, of Tiffin, who has just cast in his lot with the residents of the Future Great. Mr. Chittenden is an eloquent young man, a close student, and will undoubtedly make his mark in his chosen profession. He comes from his home in Tiffin highly recommended, all those with whom he is acquainted regretting his departure, but extending well wishes for his success. The BEE hopes Mr. Chittenden's brightest anticipations will be attained.

PLEASANT EVENING OUTING.

Last evening a party of young people took a delightful outing on the river steamer Wilson to the lake and return. In the party were the following: The Misses Cuddeback, Sawtelle, Kingon, Waldorf, Cheesley, Watson, Gertie Weed, Grace Weed, May Heston, Lulu Heston, Griffi, Williamson, Hunter, Thomas, Burdick, Cochran, Taylor, Hubble and Breckenridge and Messrs. Will Schroeder, Tom Tracy, Joe Fisk, Frank Crabbs, Walter Chase, Jesse Draper, Lou Weed, Tod Stow, Heron Cheney, Bob Whittlesey, Mark Griffis, Frank Schroeder, Art Burdick, George Ransom, Eugene Mettler, Harry Buckwell and Walter Monroe.

BONDS DID NOT SELL.

The ways and means committee of the council met in Auditor Walker's office last evening to sell four lots of bonds as printed in yesterday's BEE, but the only bids received were for $1,189.58 of improvement bonds for the alley between Erie and Ontario street. C. Mather was the bidder, and he was awarded the bonds at par and accrued interest.

The auditor was instructed to sell the other bonds whenever he can find purchasers.

The auditor reported the bridge fund $591 short for September, the sanitary fund $1,668.03 short and the general sewer fund short $184.59 for the same month. After some discussion it was decided to take the money temporarily from other funds to make up the shortage.

FRANK SMITH AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The meeting in Y. M. C. A. hall last night, addressed by Frank Smith, was one of interest to every one of the young men present, there being a goodly number of them. The speaker addressed his hearers on the subject of "Christian Heroism," with his old time vigor, enthusiasm and common sense. It is safe to say that if a man hears Mr. Smith once, he is almost certain to be present at as many of his meetings as possible. He will conduct services every night this week in the gymnasium of the association at 8 o'clock (unless the attendance is so large that use of the hall will be necessary), and a noonday meeting from 12:15 to 12:45 in the parlors. All young men are cordially invited to all of the meetings. Mr. Smith's topic for the meeting to-night is the "Christian's Hope." The Orio male quartet rendered two excellent selections last night, and will sing at all of the evening services.

TEMPERANCE ARGUMENT.

London, Sept. 22.—In a pastoral letter read in all the Catholic churches of this city, Cardinal Manning points out the necessity of rearing children in the principles and practice of total abstention from the use of intoxicants. The letter concludes with an earnest appeal to parents to so train their children that they may live lives of sobriety.

On the evenings of next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 24, 25 and 26, a fair will be held in the Fiory and Baker hall, corner Front and Bridge streets, East Side, for the benefit of the recently organized Martin Luther church, of East Toledo. The public is kindly invited.

IN THE COURTS.

Judge Harmon will transact no business until the grand jury reports, which will probably be one week from next Monday. He will decide the case of M. M. Eppstein against the county commissioners on that date.

Judge Lemmon is out of the city. There will be no court in room 2 this week.

The case of the Consolidated against the Robisons, set for hearing in Judge Pugsley's court to-day, was continued until next Thursday.

S. W. Flower, a member of the grand jury, was excused this morning on account of sickness.

The circuit court is hearing the case of Toledo, for use of, against Walter Chudeaus to-day. The case of Worts, Kirk & Bigelow against Henry Birkenhauer, on account, which was set for to-day, was settled.

Judge Pugsley has no assignment for this week, but court will be open every day for any business that may come up.

In probate court the case of Toledo against the T., St. L. & K. C. R. R. Co. is still on hearing.

New Cases.

32242—Youngs W. Smith v George J. Sherman, note $100. O. S. Brumbach, plaintiff's attorney.

32244—Mercelia Leroux v Gabriel Leroux, divorce and alimony. J. R. Linn, plaintiff's attorney.

WARNER IN BRYAN.

An Able Address on the Tariff Issues.

Bryan, Sept. 22.—(Special)—Hon. W. C. Warner addressed a large and appreciative audience at the opera house last night.

He discussed the tariff question in a way that showed clearly he was complete master of it.

His address was a master piece of argument as well as eloquently delivered.

Many republicans who heard him were convinced of the fallacies of protection and are only waiting the privacy of the Australian ballot booth to vote for that man who has been true to every trust imposed upon him—Gov. James. E. Campbell.

The county committee have written Chairman Neal asking that Mr. Warner be sent here to address a mass meeting of democrats some time in October.

COMPRESSED AIR CARS.

Arrival of the First of the Consolidated's New Motor Cars.

The first of the new compressed air cars of the Consolidated Street Railway company arrived in the city this afternoon and was taken to the Monroe street power house. The car attracted much attention on its way from the freight house to the car house, and while standing at the foot of Monroe street was examined by many people. These new cars are made by the Mekarski American Company, Air motor company and are built at the Brooks Locomotive works, Dunkirk, New York. The car is longer and wider than any of the cars now in use in the city and is very heavily built, weighing about eight tons. It is also very handsomely fitted up. As soon as it is in running order the car will be tested, probably on the Ironville line.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Don't fail to read about the strike. Account of it on this page.

In Justice Merrill's court this morning, judgment was given to Connolley against Brewster, in an attachment case. Hebner against Steigmer was settled.

Men's all solid fine calf shoes at $2 a pair at Fiory & Baker's.

Mercelia Leroux applied in common pleas court to-day for a divorce from her husband, Gabriel Leroux, charging wilful neglect and extreme cruelty.

Handbags and satchels at Birkencamp's.

The Seventh Ward Democratic Marching club will meet to-night at Miller's new hall. It is the duty of every member to be present as there is important business.

Ladies and gentlemen buy shoes now at Fiory & Baker's.

The Eleventh street Church of Christ tendered their pastor, Rev. Errett Gates, a farewell reception at the church last evening. Ice cream and cake was served. Rev. Gates left to-day for New York city.

Buy dress goods now at Fiory & Baker's. We have one cash price and that is always the lowest.

Eddie Britt, a well known young man of St. Patrick's parish, died at the home of his parents yesterday. He was but 17 years of age and quite a favorite with young and old.

Birkencamp's trunks, 608 Summit street.

The time this morning at the Toledo Medical college was mostly spent by the faculty and students debating as to who should occupy the chair of theory and practice, and it finally rests with the students to make their choice.

Trunks and bags at Birkencamp's.

Everybody come and see the bargains offered in dress goods, dry goods, men's furnishings, hats, caps, boots and shoes at prices lower than any other house at Fiory & Baker's, East Side.

A load of hay was upset at the corner of Superior and Monroe streets at noon to-day, the result of an open trench near that corner. Considerable complaint is being made all over the city because of the carelessness of the men who have charge of the work, in leaving trenches open.

You have no idea how cheap goods are sold at Fiory & Baker's. If you want good reliable goods at prices lower than any other house in Toledo, call on Fiory & Baker.

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

The market quotations in the BEE are compiled from United Press special dispatches and from reports received by the Toledo Produce Exchange, and specially arranged by Mr. Denison B. Smith, secretary of the Exchange.

OFFICE OF THE TOLEDO BEE, TOLEDO, O., Sept. 22.

London wheat markets firm and 6 pence higher; Corn, more active. Country markets higher. Weather, unsettled. Liverpool wheat steady at an advance of ½ to 1 pence per 100 lbs. Corn, quiet.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,420,804 bu, compared with 530,347 bu on the same day last year.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 2,872,000 bu of wheat and 167,000 bbls of flour, equal to 3,624,000 bu of wheat, and 424,000 bu of corn.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage decreased last week 736,000 bu. Corn increased 376,000 bu.

Our table herein of available wheat and corn shows an increase of 1,871,773 bu wheat, and an increase of 1,358,626 bu corn.

The steamer E C Pope left Chicago Saturday night with a cargo of 125,990 bu of corn—the largest on record.

Stocks of wheat in country elevators in Minnesota and the Dakotas are 1,982,000 bu, increase last week 226,000 bu.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 890,557 bu in excess of the corresponding Tuesday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 606,203 bu and in flour an aggregate of 725,000 bus.

English markets as reported herein are higher in London and steady in Liverpool. Corn was quiet.

The failure of a house heretofore considered very strong, and which has been largely identified with grain, is alleged to be the primary reason for weaker grain markets to-day. It is charged that the house was a leading factor in the corn market, and a very large holder of it, and the break in prices to-day indicates the truth of the report. It indicates another thing, that any man, or firm, that attempts to corner grain in this country undertakes a huge contract.

And now comes the "American Agriculturist" with an intensified threshing of the old "Vienna Congress" straw, and other sensational statements, all in the interest of the alliances, and all to incite the farmers to become speculators and hold their wheat. What information has the paper alluded to that is not in the possession of all of us? No one is more sanguine of a shortage this year than we are, but when dealers begin to work out on the verge of such extreme conditions they had better remember S.V. White & Co. and the short corn crop.

The decrease in the flour and wheat on the ocean is 736,000 bus, and is all on the United Kingdom quantity. Indeed the decrease to the United Kingdom is 40,000 bus more than that, because of the increase of that quantity to the continent. It would seem, therefore, that of our late clearancy England has not been the principal buyer.

The wheat markets on this side opened 1¼ to 1¾c lower this morning on the basis of the news herein contained. There has been the usual fluctuation of 1c bu both ways. New York closed at $1 05¾ for September, a loss of 1⅜c; December, $1 08⅝, a loss of 1⅝c. Chicago closed at 99⅜c for December, a loss of 1½c.

Corn has suffered very badly, and in Chicago much more than in New York. In the latter market September closed at 59½, a loss of ⅝c. October at 58⅜ c, a loss of 1⅛ c. In Chicago September closed at 49⅛c, a loss of 3⅞c; October at 49⅜ c, a loss of 1⅝c.

In Toledo we have had a day of moderate dealing in wheat futures, and prices are lower. Dealers counted on better markets, but the unexpected happened in to frustrate calculations. On the call October wheat sold at 99½@99¼c; December at $1 02⅜@1 02¼ closing at $1 02⅜; May at $1 09. After the call September at 99¾c, closing at 99¼c, a loss of ¾c; December at $1 03, closing at $1 02¼, a loss of 1¼c; May at $1 09¾, closing at that, a loss of ¼c; cash wheat, dull; demand, weak; No 2 soft sold at 99½c and closed at 99¼c, a loss of ¾c; No 3 soft at 97¾c, closing at 97c; No 4 soft at 89c to 89¼c; rejected No 2 at 80c.

Corn—No 2 at 53½c; No 3 yellow at 50c. Oats rejected at 29c. Rye closed ½c lower; No 2 sold at 92c, closing at 92½c; October, 91¾c; No 3 at 89c; rejected at 89c.

Clover seed was very strong, and the sales were larger than on any day this season. Orders for purchase came from all along the line, and this commodity seems to promise to have its innings at last. The price has been absurdly low. Prices are higher. On the call December sold at $4 57½, and $4 60. After the call prime for cash at $4 65 to $4 75; September at $4 67½ to $4 75; October at $4 65 to $4 70; December at $4 75 to $4 80; January at $4 80 to $4 85; No 2 at all kinds of prices from $4 00 to $4 40.

Trading was not quite as active on the stock exchange as on yesterday, yet the volume of business was very heavy. The sales by midday amounted to 266,000 shares. The first prices showed irregular changes and the early dealings considerable feverishness with general weakness. The air was thick with rumors of impending failures, which added to the feverishness and demoralization. Union Pacific was a notable exception to the general list advancing 1⅛ at the opening to 43. The reports of failures and impending ones soon materialized into the announcement that the well-known firm of S. V. White & Co had assigned.

To say that the failure caused a sensation is to draw it mildly, as everybody in and about Wall street looked upon the house as one of the strongest and safest in financial circles. Immediately on this announcement a raid was naturally made of Lackawanna, S V White being closely identified with that stock. Its price fell 1 per cent, but later on it rallied, recovering all of the loss. Sugar trust was the weakest speculative of the first hour, dropping from 93⅝ to 92½, but recovering by 11 o'clock. The White failure had the effect of causing a fractional decline in the general list, although when the effects of the failure on the stock market were seen to be of a slight nature in that market prices rallied.

At 11 o'clock the general market was fractionally higher than they closed last evening. After 11 o'clock the market developed marked weakness, and prices of all the active stocks, under a combined attack from the bears, except Lackawanna, which showed signs of support, declined sharply. L. & N. was the weakest, declining 1½ per cent. The rest of the list fell ½ to 1¾ per cent, below yesterday's figure at 11:30. Toward noon there was another rally and at this writing the market is active with figures within a fraction of the best prices.

TIFFIN'S CITY BONDS.

A Purchaser Found for a Large Block.

Tiffin, O., Sept. 22.—(Special)—For several weeks the finance committee of the city council has been endeavoring to negotiate the sale of a bunch of $40,000 in city bonds, but the city's credit appeared to have degenerated under a rapidly accumulating debt, and nobody would take them at par, and the law does not permit the sale for less.

The dilemma was avaded last night in a very peculiar manner.

S. B. Sneath placed before the council a proposition to negotiate the sale of the bonds for a commission of $1,000 and accrued interest, amounting to about $200 more. This was receipted.

The peculiar feature of the transaction lies in the fact that it is simply an evasion of the law, as Sneath is himself

The far west forges to the front. South Dakota has a baccarat scandal.

Jake Englehardt is not damning the public just at present. The people will do the damning on election day in an effective manner.

Local Shermanites assert that Squire is running Foraker's end of the campaign in Lucas county. How is that, Mr. Clarence Brown?

Flickinger is endeavoring to mollify Romeis with a bogus affidavit anent the article in the Bee of a week ago. The document is not answering its proposed aim.

The inquisition established in the Federal building proposes having all legislative candidates on the rack. Lord High Executioner Brown presides, and he knows no mercy.

Canada cries to England for freer trade. It must be, according to republican argument this side the line, that wicked Cobden club is sending British gold into Ontario.

The democratic senatorial convention of this district will meet at Ottawa, Thursday. It will be largely attended, and will perform the preliminary work in the creation of two democratic senators.

Major McKinley will speak at Ottumwa, Iowa, to-morrow. Judging from the kind of a governor they have, Iowa farmers are not in need of McKinley advice as to how to vote. The Major had best do his wind-jamming at home.

Eli Perkins, or some other humorist at present unnamed, inserted a plank in the Massachusetts republican platform congratulating "the republican party and the country upon the firm maintenance by the present administration of the principles of civil service reform."

Mr. Parnell says the "one man, one vote" method would decrease the power of the Irish party in parliament. It is the right theory of suffrage, whoever is injured by its adoption, and those who advocate its adoption do so in the interests of the people. Other things, which it was once within Mr. Parnell's power to prevent, also "decrease the power of the power of the Irish party in parliament."

The census fund has been exhausted and the work of special agents has been stopped. An appropriation of $6,400,000 has been expended, much of it frittered away over trifling and unnecessary details, most of it wasted upon salaries to incompetent and unnecessary employes. When Superintendent Porter asks the Fifty-second congress for a further appropriation, he will be likely to hear some things not at all to his advantage.

The extra session of the Tennessee legislature adjourns without having taken any satisfactory action on those matters for which it was called. The two houses could not agree on any measure to regulate or change the employment of convicts, the obnoxious lease system remains in force, and the bitterness of the people can but be increased by the exhibition their lawmakers have made of their incapacity or dishonesty. If rebellion against law shall ensue, these legislators will not be guiltless. If the law is set aside with contempt, those who make the laws have first shown they can be trifled with.

Chauncey Depew found, when he was abroad, so he says, that American protests against the harsh measures the czar has instituted toward his Jewish subjects has "caused a feeling of hostility in Russia against the United States for the first time since the civil war." It is a feeling residents of the United States will, under the circumstances, be satisfied to have aroused, and which this administration must take no steps to overcome. The part Russia played in our civil war was that of the friend of the north, not because the sympathies of Russia's ruler were with us but because it was not his policy to allow Great Britain to espouse the cause of the south. Their fear of each other caused these two countries to secretly favor opposite sides in the American conflict, and then openly remain neutral, and this republic owes them nothing. For the cause of freedom its good word should always be spoken, and against barbaric despotism not only the people of this country may protest, but the government in the name of the people ought to protest as it has not yet done.

A REPUBLICAN PYRAMID.

Republican campaigners are circulating among the people of this state a little leaflet which is very amusing reading. One side is devoted to a misstatement of the democratic platform on the silver question. The other side gives "the republican platform," in big black letters, the words arranged in pyramidal form, and reading: "Honest money, a free ballot, a fair count, patriotism, protection, prosperity." In these six counts the reader is asked to believe is embodied the sum and substance of the republican platform, and he is supposed to be so credulous as to accept the platform in the belief that the republican party alone stands for these things, and that upon its success and perpetuity in power depends the "prosperity" it alone can secure.

What is in fact the record of the republican party and its Ohio exponents on the "honest money" question? That Candidate McKinley has been upon all sides of the money question was sufficiently shown by Governor Campbell in his speech at Sidney. Senator Sherman has been more than any one living man in the country identified with its financial affairs, and what is his record? He has been upon both sides of the question of paying the bonds in gold, both sides of the question of resumption of specie payment, all sides of the silver question, and is justly held responsible for the demonetization of silver in 1873, which brought the darkest days upon this republic than it has ever seen in bankruptcies and financial distress, conditions that continued until silver was remonetized in 1878. If the republican party alone can determine what is "honest money," it is high time for it to secure standard bearers who will not have so many changes of opinion as to what "honest money" is.

The bold claim that the republican party stands for "a free ballot and a fair count" is quite as amusing as the rest of it. There is no need of denial. The last session of the Ohio legislature, which gave to the Ohio citizen the Australian system of voting by which only "a free ballot and a fair count" is possible, is not so long past that its proceedings are forgotten. The bill was brought in by Senator Shaw, democrat, valuable amendments were proposed by Representative Mallon, democrat, the bill and the necessary amendments were advocated and insisted upon by democrats, and in the roll call by which the bill was made law more names of democrats than of republicans will be found recorded on the affirmative vote.

The cry that "patriotism" is distinctively a republican virtue is one that for very shame's sake should be silenced. It is not in legislative halls we find the roll-call that is the denial of this claim. It is in the list of the dead and disabled after every battle from Bull Run and Shiloh to Appomattox. It is the republican politician who is so brazen as to arrogate for his party all rights in this highest virtue of the citizen. The republican soldier who fought through the war knows the democrat who was his fellow-soldier and comrade was as true a patriot as he. Nor are the people of Ohio so ignorant of their country's history as to think that Alexander Hamilton was a patriot and Thomas Jefferson was not.

The protection plank of the republican platform, which of course must mean the kind and degree of protection for which its leader stands, is all its own, its very own. It is the one honest claim this remarkable leaflet offers, and the party in whose interest the leaflets are being sown broadcast over the state is heartily welcome to it.

Last of all, this pyramidal platform does not rest upon the solid basis of prosperity, as represented. For thirty years the republican party has been in the affairs of the nation. For thirty years it has built higher the policy of protection until it has reached its present monstrous proportions. It has had a long, fair trial, and the people do not prosper under it, and, worst of all for the party, the people have found it out.

Honest money and honest elections are good things to have and the people mean to have them, but they know the republican party has no claim to be the medium through which they can be had. Patriotism is a virtue all men should practice, but no man believes it to be the guide of a party that by high protection has generated a race of plutocrats to whom they would give over the country in chains of class legislation. Prosperity is the state all men desire, and the majority having failed to reach that state, or having fallen from it, under republican rule, are minded to try another regime.

Building little republican pyramids on paper, and giving them free distribution among the people, is easy work. It amuses the recipients, but it will not secure their votes.

At noon to-day, in accordance with President Harrison's proclamation, 800,000 acres of land in the eastern part of Oklahoma were opened for settlement. As the land, divided into quarter sections of 160 acres each, will make 5,000 farms, and as not less than 8,000 would-be settlers have been waiting for days to take possession of them, it follows there has been an exciting scramble, and some three thousand people have been bitterly disappointed. The fast diminishing area of public lands open for settlement will soon bring this republic face to face with the most perplexing problem of old world countries, all the sooner that we have been trained to believe our capacity was inexhaustible for absorbing the natural increase of population and unlimited immigration as well.

THE MAJOR'S SILVER RECORD.

Governor Campbell in his first campaign speech has notified Major McKinley, who voted for the issue of the 75-cent Bland dollar, that he is disqualified by his own record from discussing the silver issue as the friend of honest money. The Major would be well advised to stick to his protection. When he undertakes to crow on any other dunghill he seems out of place.—Philadelphia Record.

HOW THEY EXPLAIN.

Did you ever notice how it worked? Up goes the tariff, up go prices. Then all the beneficiaries get together to explain to the consumer that the rise is due to the equinoctial storms, the eruption of Vesuvius, or a revolution in Fiji.—The Massillonian.

SO WE THINK.

Gov. Campbell, of Ohio, is a good one. Major McKinley has his hands very full indeed.—Boston Globe.

FORTY MILES OF LINE

Laid in the Streets of the City for Gas.

Consumers Applying at the Rate of 65 a Day.

Price of Tips for Lighting Purposes Fixed at 3 Cents Each—Libbey Gets a Two Years' Contract—Meeting of the Gas Trustees.

It developed at the meeting of the natural gas trustees last evening that there has been over 40 miles of pipe laid in the streets of Toledo, that over 700 contracts have already been made, and applications for gas are coming in at the rate of 65 a day.

Several important matters were passed upon at last night's meeting. One of the most important was the decision to let the Libby glass works have a two-years' contract. Another important feature was the fixing of the price of tips in the use of natural gas for illuminating purposes at 3 cents a tip. This will give Toledoans an opportunity of lighting their homes cheaply.

The report of Superintendent O'Hearn on a comparison of cost of constructing lines under contract, and by the city showed that the work performed by the city was done more economically. The comparative costs are: Per contract, 6-inch $1.04; 4-inch, 59 cents. Per city, 6-inch, 62½ cents; 4-inch, 36 cents. It should be stated that the city work includes only the actual cost of pipe and labor, and does not include the cost of superintendents, etc. Even then it looks much as if the contract price was away up.

Mr. Backus left the rooms immediately after adjournment, and Mr. Jones moved a reconsideration of the motion to adjourn. This was carried, and Dr. Jones brought up and got through several matters that had been forgotton or rejected.

Among other things decided upon after reassembling was the decision to buy a mile of eight-inch pipe from the Chester Tube company.

To lay a line in the alley running past Col. Naughton's foundry at Washington street.

To lay a line on Germania between Lenk and Ewing and one on Hamilton between Ewing and Elwood.

Following was transacted at the regular meeting:

Residents of Tecumseh street petitioned for a line between Ewing and Lenk streets, with power to construct the line. The matter was referred to the manager.

A schedule of claims amounting to $8,242 was ordered paid.

Mr. Greene, from the committee on city plant, reported the following petitions from the streets named, and in which a full cost of line is paid:

Congress, between Orchard and Broadway.

Union, from Oak to John street.

Part of cost is paid on the following:

Hamilton, Lenk to Elizabeth street.

Vermont, Bancroft to Page and from Page to Cherry.

On the above it was decided to lay the lines.

Page street from Lagrange to Chestnut. Petition granted.

Bancroft, Elm to Mulberry. Granted.

Coburn, Broadway to Maumee avenue line will be laid when half of estimated cost is paid.

Mr. Parsons, from the committee on prices, recommended that the board enter into a contract with the Libbey glass works for a term of two years at $30 a pot. Recommendation adopted.

It was also recommended that the petition of the Toledo Milling company and the Malleable Iron works be referred back with the answer that the board considers it inexpedient to extend the line beyond the Maumee Rolling mills this fall.

The final estimate of work performed by the city showed that six inch lines had been furnished and constructed at 62 cents a foot and four inch at 36 cents.

The application of the Standard Oil company for the construction of a line to one of its warehouses was brought before the board and discussed. The application covers the price of gas and the cost of construction.

The company will advance the money to construct the line and secure the meter necessary to measure the gas, and that the company will pay 8 cents a thousand.

Dr. Jones moved that the application be granted. Mr. Backus seconded the motion.

Mr. Parsons said he felt like the profane man who, when in a great emergency, was asked why he failed to curse as usual, replied that he could not do the subject justice. He did not believe in helping the enemy.

Mr. Brown said there was no great need for haste in the matter.

Mr. Parsons introduced a resolution fixing the price of tips used in burning natural gas for lighting purposes at 3 cents a tip, payable monthly. Adopted.

Mr. Brown, continuing, said the Standard company should supply its own works, and he favored supplying citizens in preference to supplying the sworn enemy of the project. The Standard had practically boycotted applicants for city gas.

Dr. Jones thought the application could be granted without interfering with the piping of the city.

Mr. Parsons said it required the cheek of a brass monkey for the Standard to make such an application. Messrs. Parsons, Brown and Greene voted no and Messrs. Backus and Jones aye, and the petition was rejected.

The manager was instructed to notify the contractors not to open up any more trenches until the trenches already open had been refilled, and furthermore that unless the work be completed by Thursday, September 25, that the manager take hold and complete the work.

Parks, Foster & Co. were authorized to lay under it contract 1,600 feet additional of four-inch pipe.

USES OF THE BAMBOO.

It Serves More Purposes Than Any Other Plant That Is Cultivated.

It is hoped by the department of agriculture that the bamboo may yet be cultivated in this country as it is in China, where it supplies a large part of the wants of the people, being applied to more than five hundred different purposes. In the flowery kingdom it takes the place both of iron and steel. The farmer builds his house and fences out of it, his farming utensils as well as his household furniture are manufactured from it, while the tender roots furnish with a most delicious vegetable for his table.

The roots are carved into fantastic images, shape into divining blocks to guess the will of the gods, or cut into lantern handles and canes. The tapering culms are used for the props of houses, the framework of awnings, the ribs of sails and shafts of rakes; for fences and every sort of frames, coops and cages; and the handles and ribs of umbrellas and fans. The leaves are sewed into raincoats and thatches. The shavings and curled threads furnish materials for stuffing pillows, while parts supply the bed for sleeping, the chopsticks for eating, the pipe for smoking, the broom for sweeping, the mattress to lie upon, the chair to sit upon, the table to eat on, the food to eat and the fuel to cook it with, etc., etc. In fact, its uses are almost without number.

A church in lower Austria has just received a legacy of 300 florins. It was bequeathed by a merchant of Vienna to atone for his having broken a window during a lesson in catechism when a boy 11 years old.

The Japan Herald is authority for the figures of gold output in Siberia from 1834 to 1887 inclusive: 30,000,000 ounces, £120,000,000, or $600,000,000, and this with but little machinery, efforts rudely systematized, and stealage. When the great Siberian railroad is completed from the Caspian sea to Vladivostock, on the Pacific, the output of Russian gold will be greatly increased.

STONE ROAD REPAIRS.

The Commissioners Will Ask for Bids for Making the Same.

The county commissioner to-day passed a resolution instructing the county auditor to advertise for bids for the repair of county stone roads, by sections, for a year, the contractor to supply 220 cords of stone per mile, and keep the same in good repair during the time specified in the contract.

In May the commissioner went to Columbus and procured legislation allowing them to issue stone road repair bonds in the sum of $15,000.

When his bill was passed another bill was introduced, amending section 4836 of the revised statutes, providing for the levy for this purpose and the manner in which the roads should be repaired. It requires that at their March session annually the county commissioners should divide the stone roads of the county into sections of not more than two miles in length. It provides further that they shall at the same time make an estimate of the amount of materials required to keep such sections in proper condition during the next following year, and decide upon the most convenient place to have the material delivered. It also requires that the commissioners shall then fix a day on which they will let to the lowest bidder the contract of furnishing and delivering the material to the place decided upon, and that they shall entertain several bids for the furnishing of material and doing the necessary labor.

The commissioners on May 31, the last day of their March session, passed a resolution dividing the stone roads into sections, but took further action until to-day. In the meantime, however, the commissioners have been allowing bills to separate individuals who have been repairing stone roads under the direction of different members of the board.

TALK AND TALK

Indulged in by the Board of Aldermen.

A Hot Meeting on a Hot Night—Hard Sledding for the Street Railway Companies—The Jury Ordinance Fails to Pass.

All members of the board of aldermen were presesent last evening, and notwithstanding the oppressive heat the members made things considerably warmer by several hot discussions. The street railway companies came in for a goodly share of this, and some of the members gave both companies a severe scoring for their conduct in the city.

No new business was introduced on first call, and for a while the appearances indicated that the session would be short and quiet. The members soon warmed up, however, and almost every matter of importance met some opposition.

Reports of the meetings of the ways and means committee held Thursday and last evening were read and approved.

From the street committee ordinances were adopted to pave Ostrich lane with firebrick from Mulberry street to Magnolia; to improve Russell street, from Williams to Raymer; to grade the alley northeast of Cherry street, and to establish the grade of the alley southwest of Cherry street.

On motion of Mr. Macomber the ordinance establishing the grade of Ravine alley was referred back to the committee.

The resolution authorizing the clerk to advertise the petition for the vacation of a strip on the westerly side of Speibusch avenue again came up, and Mr. Potter at once made objections to it. Instead of vacating this strip on one side, he wanted Michigan street cut through to Speibusch avenue in a straight line.

Mr. Potter wanted to know where this strip would go to. He was of the opinion that it would revert to the original owners instead of to the adjoining property.

Mr. Hurd spoke in favor of the resolution, and stated that a line should be established so that the property owners on that side of the street would know how much they own.

Mr. T. H. Walbridge was present, and addressed the council briefly, asking for the adoption of the resolution.

After more discussion the resolution was adopted by a vote of 6 to 3.

Resolutions recommended by the judiciary committee were adopted abating assessments on lots 12 and 13, Scott's subdivision; lots 821, 863, 837, 844, 862, Port Lawrence division.

An ordinance was passed for the issue of $92,000 of general fund refunding bonds at 5 per cent. interest, to run ten years. This ordinance repeals the one recently passed for the same bonds, but at 4½ per cent.

Mr. Macomber started a lively fight by introducing a resolution directing the engineer and solicitor to cause the removal of the Consolidated street railway switches on Washington street, at the intersection of Eleventh and Seventeenth streets.

As stated in this resolution both the Consolidated and the Robison companies have franchises for single tracks in this street, and each has its own line in the street. It also states that the Consolidated has refused to utilize these two tracks as double track for both lines and had constructed two switches at Eleventh and Seventeenth streets.

The property owners along Washington street were represented by Dr. Heydrich, who appeared before the board, and asked that the switches be removed, as Washington street was too much taken up by street railway tracks.

Mr. Macomber spoke in favor of the resolution and came down hard on the street railway companies. He considered that the companies had outraged the city by the high handed manner in which they had taken possession of the streets, and he thought the city should assert its rights.

He also asked Mr. Lang if he would be willing to occupy these tracks as double tracks in co-operation with the Robison company. To this Mr. Lang replied that he would not.

City Solicitor Read warned the board to be careful, as the adoption of the resolution would involve the city in costly litigation with the Consolidated company regarding the switches, and to decide whether they are an obstruction or not.

In defense of his position Mr. Lang stated that he had had a conference with the Robison people and the city engineer at which he expressed himself as willing to operate on Washington street as a double track if the Robisons would maintain the double wires, but they refused to do that.

On motion of Mr. Huberich the resolution was referred to the railway committee to report next Monday night.

The ordinance granting to the Robison company the right to construct an extension along Mulberry street, Spring street and Stickney avenue came up from the board of councilmen and again met with opposition. Mr. Huberich moved that it be again referred to the committee.

Mr. Potter objected to this and stated that it had been before the committee four times.

After more discussion the motion to refer was lost by a vote of 5 to 4. The motion to suspend the rules for a second reading was also lost by the same vote.

Mr. Huberich also opposed the ordinance granting to the Robisons the right to double track their line along Galena street, from Ontario to Cherry street. He thought the city should withhold all franchises until the companies settled some of their present difficulties.

The ordinance was passed, however, Mr. Huberich alone voting against it.

Mr. Everett and Mr. Potter objected to the resolution requesting the gas trustees to require their contractors to employ only citizens of Toledo on the pipe line. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 6 to 3.

The new jury ordinance also came in for considerable discussion. Mr. Potter wanted to simply repeal the present city ordinance and leave the matter of the selection of jurors with the police judge. This did not meet with much favor, but the ordinance failed to pass on the second reading by a vote of 6 to 3.

Other business from the board of councilmen was adopted.

GOOD GUESS.

A jumbo muskmelon is on exhibition at Fresno, Cal. It measures 59 inches in circumference one way and 61 the other and weighs 72 pounds. It is believed to be the largest muskmelon ever raised in America.

THE BARBERS WIN

And the Boys are at Work This Morning.

The Carpenters Have Trouble—Building Trades Council Meets—Other Meetings Last Evening.

The barbers' strike was short-lived. The journeymen have won, and with but few exceptions all are at work again this morning. At a meeting of the journeymen's union last evening it was decided to stand by the wage system, and inasmuch as several of the bosses had already acceded, victory was assured. At a meeting of the employing barbers also held last evening it was decided to give in, and as a result the shops are running as usual today.

There was a hot time at the boss barbers' meeting and three members were expelled for failure to live up to the agreement of the association. It was shown by the men that in the smaller shops employers could not earn their salt, and the men in the larger shops stood by those in the small institutions. The end is not yet.

At the meeting of the boss barbers, after expelling Ward, Langan and Paine from the association and severely scoring one member for his duplicity toward the other bosses, he being the one who first proposed and urged the percentage plan and the first one to go back on his word, there being only Powers, Bowers, Clouse, Mulume, Furguson and the Jefferson, of the down town shops who were holding out, the association concluded to go back to the salary plan. Some of the shops will take back their old men, and others have filled the strikers' places with new men, who will be retained.

The trouble among the two painters' unions of the city continues. Union No. 1, recently organized, at a meeting last evening decided to apply for a charter to the American Federation of Labor. It is believed that the request for a charter will not be granted as long as there is one union under the jurisdiction of the Federation already here. This matter could be amicably settled if the boys would come together.

The cigarmakers are after the scalps of members who are said to be violating the eight hour agreement. It was stated at a meeting of the Cigarmakers' union held in Muichahey's hall last evening, that the agreement was being violated in many of the shops of the city. Vigorous steps will be taken to find out and punish the violators.

At the regular meeting of the Building Trades council last evening a full delegation was present from the Lathers' union. It was decided to throw the next meeting open to the public, when matters pertaining some what to politics may be discussed.

MADE FIFTEEN MILLIONS,

Brief Sketch of the Late W. L. Scott.

A Hard Worker and Earnest Democrat—Money Flowed into His Hands.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 22.—There is great curiosity expressed as to the will of W. L. Scott. It is said to lie in the Second National bank vault. Speculation is rife as to the manner in which Mr. Scott has left his vast estates to be administered upon.

It is known that will making was one of the principal labors of his latter years, and it is said that every supreme court decision in contested wills caused him to make changes in his testament as fast as they occurred. The most eminent legal talent in the county was often consulted upon this document.

Mr. Scott has never done anything for Erie in the way of a public bequest, such as a library, park, institution of learning, or such public benefaction as would live after him.

His donations have always been in the shape of a cancelled church debt and gifts to orphan asylums or to needy individuals. The hour or day has not been fixed for the funeral.

William L. Scott was born July 2, 1828, of poor parents, who were residents of Virginia, near Washington city.

He was educated in the common schools of the capital. At the age of 12 he was appointed a page in the house of representatives, and served there for six years. He was bright and prompt, and attracted the attention of Congressman C. M. Reed, of Erie.

The latter took young Scott to Erie and put him into a clerkship in his shipping house. Reed gave Scott his start in life, and trained him in those business methods which enabled the young man to lay the foundation for his fortune.

Reed was a shipbuilder and owner, and Scott put all the money he could save into that business. He soon owned several lake vessels, and became also a coal operator. His fortune accumulated rapidly. He became the owner of large coal mines in the Youghiogheny district, and part owner of several iron mills in various parts of the country.

He possessed mining interests in Northern Illinois.

Turning his attention to railroad construction and operation, he became interested, as president or director, in lines aggregating over 22,000 miles of completed road, probably the greatest number of miles any one individual was ever an officer or director.

Mr. Scott was a great lover of the turf. He became prominent as an owner in 1882, when he appeared at Saratoga with Referee. In 1882 Mr. Scott imported Rayon d'Or, the celebrated race horse, and began breeding horses at the Algerin Stud, near Erie, Pa.

His sales every year have been notable for the high prices obtained. He bred at his stock farm, among other famous thoroughbreds, the great Tenny. Mr. Scott, when on the turf, was a heavy bettor, mainly on his own horses, however.

Politically Mr. Scott was an ardent democrat. He was a district delegate to the New York convention which nominated Horatio Seymour for president in 1868, and in 1880 was one of Pennsylvnia's delegates-at-large to the Cincinnati convention which nominated General Hancock.

He was an intimate friend and political pupil of the late Samuel J. Tilden. From 1876 to 1884 he represented the state on the democratic national committee. He was twice elected Mayor of the republican city of Erie.

He became a candidate for congress in the Erie district, which was republican, and was twice elected, in 1884 and 1886. Since his retirement from congress he devoted all his time to the management of his immense business interests.

He built a magnificent business block in Erie. He was a close advisor of ex-President Cleveland, and exercised great influence in the democratic political affairs of Pennsylvania. He leaves a fortune estimated at $15,000,000.

LIFE IN HONOLULU,

A Glimpse of Life on Hayti Island.

From the Golden Gate to Diamond Head—Kawaiahao Seminary—Flowers and Trees of Fairyland.

The following glimpses of Honolulu and the voyage there are from a letter written to Toledo relatives by a young lady who has gone to Honolulu, as a teacher in the Kawaiahao seminary.

We sailed from San Francisco at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and remained up on deck until we had gone out the Golden Gate. Miss Harris, the teacher occupying the state room with me, was ill from the time she put foot on steamer until we landed in Honolulu. It did not go out to dinner the first night, and for about half an hour felt miserable, but I got up all right and never was better in my life. I was ready for the five and even six meals daily. I could not get enough to eat, and enjoyed the ship life so much that I am thinking of applying for a position as stewardess.

I was given a seat at the surgeon's table, and for two days was the only woman with four men for companions—the doctor, who was ever so nice; a German baron, a San Francisco man and a Honolulu man. The baron was my visarie, and we did have a good time at our table and no mistake. We took turns in ordering the dinner, but made this stipulation that each one should eat everything that was ordered and no complaining. They tried to find something I would not eat. I heard whispering one day as I came to table, and when the waiter came he brought olives. I smiled when they were passed to me, took two and asked for more.

We reached Honolulu at 11 o'clock the next Tuesday morning. I was so sorry the voyage was over that I would not look at the island for some time, but when we rounded Diamond Head and I saw the lovely harbor and city and hills beyond I relented. When the pilot came on board he told us of the king consort's death last week. He is to be buried Sunday. We hope to see part of the service.

Our seminary is right in the center of town, on King street, not a block from the palace. We have a good, substantial frame building, not a bit of plastering anywhere; side walls and ceilings painted, floors ditto, and no rugs except in our reception rooms. We have good, long rooms, each teacher a separate one, with pretty cottage-set of furniture, good, roomy closets.

Our school does not open until Monday next, so we are taking this week for callers, driving and sight seeing. We have two good horses, and are talking of a third, just for riding. No one walks—even these poor natives (if they have a quarter) ride. There is a happy set of people, a mixture of Chinese, Japanese, Indian and Negro. I see all traits. They love flowers and music and sing beautifully. The music teacher is training the girls now to sing at the funeral. The flowers are so lovely; I can't begin to tell you of them, and the wonderful tropical trees. I rave all the time I am out driving. Why, it seems like fairyland. I know I shall like it here. The people greet you so cordially. And this is a lovely city of 20 000 inhabitants, horse cars, electric lights, manufactured ice, and all American vegetables and tropical fruits. Living is dear here—butter 52 cents per pound, eggs 50 cents per dozen.

Sunday next, the 6th, is the funeral, and Monday school commences. We have had so many calls—five within the past hour. So, with driving and sightseeing the week has slipped by. We have had 13 callers to-day, teachers' meeting this evening and now it is bedtime. Yours, A. Z. H.

AT THE THEATERS.

The Devil's Editor and the Pearl of Pekin Presented Last Night.

An excellent company presented Reed's new farce comedy, The Devil's Editor, at the Wheeler last night to a small audience. The new piece is not very deep and has no stolen will, nor deep-dyed villian in it, but it affords all the room imagin ble for the many clean specialties which are introduced throughout the production. The scenes supposed to occur in a new-paper office are ludicrous, but very much overdrawn.

The company is an especially strong aggregation and The Devil's Editor ought to be a go for this reason alone. Sheridan and Flynn—Joe Flynn, who immortalized himself by writing "McGinty"—furnish the main portion of the fun, although Frank Doane as the Editor was very clever. Alice Harrison is as chic as ever, and in fact the entire cast was more than up to the average.

The singing was very fine and the dancing in line with the other portions of the performance.

The piece will be presented to-night a second time, and the house will likely be filled.

Pearl of Pekin.

The initial performance of the Pearl of Pekin at the People's last night, was witnessed by a large audience, which was apparently satisfied with the production. The opera is a very beautiful creation and the company that is now producing it did not mar it by bad work.

The music of the opera is bright, new and catchy, and the scenery and costumes splendid. The company is headed by Edwin Chapman, a very capable comedian, who essays the task of impersonating the great Tyfoo. Chapman is exceedingly funny and the audience was kept in a state of continual hilarity most of the evening. Miss Irene Verona, as the Vivandiere, gave excellent satisfaction and Miss Ida Siembler, as the Pearl of Pekin, sang nicely and acted well. Wallace Widiake is a fairly good liner, and the remainder of the cast with one or two exceptions were all right.

The People's ought to do a heavy business all week with such an attraction.

Shepard's Minstrels.

To-morrow night Shepard's Modern Minstrels will appear at the Wheeler, and the minstrel loving public will doubtless enjoy a treat in that line. The company is reputed to be composed of competent artists, and the show is said to be new throughout.

The Shepards have introduced an era in minstrelsy and it is probable that their innovation upon established methods will be largely imitated by other companies. Something was needed to revive the waning interest in this class of entertainments, and Shepard's minstrels seem to have discovered the secret by surrounding backneyed incidents and traditions with artistic and novel conceptions. The company may be fairly recommended to the patronage of the public.

English Opera.

The Annandale English Opera company, headed by Miss Annandale, late of the Emma Abbott company, will appear at the Wheeler Friday and Saturday evenings with Saturday matinee. Lovers of English opera will do well to hear these three performances.

Friday night, Martha; Saturday matinee, Il Trovatore; Saturday night, Bohemian girl.

In Germany the potato is often used as material for buttons, which look very much like horn or ivory buttons, but are much cheaper. The potato is first treated with certain acids and then compressed until it gets as hard as stone.

"YOU ARE SO YOUNG TO SUFFER!"

This occurrence is frequent. Young girls in public schools where great rivalry exists often try to accomplish too much, and soon discover that their delicate organizations are unequal to the mental strain. Then the ambitious child is taken from school—"to rest"—in disappointment.

This is wrong. The ambitions of a child should be aided, not blasted. Thoughtful, intelligent mothers know what to do. Thousands of bright eyed, rosy cheeked, energetic and lovable school girls regard Mrs. Pinkham as their mainstay. They are right.

WHEN STARS SHINE.

Look! Daylight's faintest glimmer
Pales out of sea and sky.
The serried cliffs wax grimmer,
Then into darkness fly.
And all the sea's white shimmer
Has dimmer grown and dimmer,
And darkened far and nigh.

But yonder, yonder, yonder,
Blooms forth each golden star;
Plucking the night asunder,
God lights them thick and far,
While all the heavens wonder,
And all the beings under,
Because such glories are!

Ah! when joy's sun is going
And darkness downward rolls;
When sorrow, blacker growing,
The lives of men controls,
Then in God's heaven glowing,
Their tender fierceness showing,
Bloom out his star-like souls!

The movement in favor of Roman instead of Gothic type is rapidly gaining ground in Germany. Many medical and scientific periodicals are printed in Roman characters.

The great seal of the United States is affixed to nothing but treaties, proclamations, commissions, pardons and passports. The government has had but two seals in the 100 years since its foundation.

Scotland contains 30 towns of more than 10,000 inhabitants. Seven of these number more than 30,000 inhabitants, nine have between 20,000 and 30,000, and the remaining fourteen have from 10,000 to 20,000.

Butter made from cocoanuts is rapidly taking the place of the ordinary butter in Germany and Switzerland. It is said to be healthful, easily digested, as palatable as butter made from the milk of cows, and much cheaper.

The violetta, the new stringed instrument between a viola and a 'cello, is exactly an octave below the violin. Its fingering is like that of the 'cello, and it is commended to women as a substitute for that instrument.

Boston is the only city in the world which preserves an exact record of the proceedings of its common council. Every motion, argument and remark no matter how unimportant, is stenographically taken down. The members are, therefore, very careful of their utterances.

The money of Chili at present is peculiar. It consists of small tags of pasteboard, on which a man writes the value for which he is willing to redeem it, putting his name on the back. It then begins to circulate, until it finally gets back to the source from which it emanated.

The fishermen of San Diego, Cal., have utilized electricity in their war upon the finny tribes. Incandescent electric lights are submerged into the water at night and a large net is placed below them. The fish are attracted by the glare and are plainly visible. When sufficiently numerous the nets are hauled up. The catches are enormous.

The songs with which the Belgian soldiers enliven their marches and hours of hard work are not of the highest moral character, and so the military authorities have engaged a number of poets and composers to supply the army with ditties in French and Flemish, which are to be sung by the troops to the exclusion of all others.

A bell boy in a New York hotel reports that "the business is not as good as in days gone, but it hasn't gone to pieces by a long way. I can easily gather in from $70 to $75 a month in tips. No, sir, it's the fault of the man if he gets a position as bell boy in a first-class hotel and then fails to make good wages."

Crickets are bought and sold in various parts of Africa. People capture them, feed them and sell them, as the natives are very fond of their music, thinking that it induces sleep. Superstitions regarding the cricket's chirp are varied; some believe that it is an omen of sorrow and evil, while others consider it a harbinger of joy.

The French are now painting their war vessels a dull, sulphurous gray, exactly the color of smoke as it arises from cannons. They say this color has the advantage of being as illusive and indistinguishable in fogs and sea mists and darkness as during the smoke of battle. It is more baffling to the search light than any other tint.

A great wagon-road scheme is afloat for western Washington. It is to have a public highway from the Straits of Fuca to the Columbia river. This movement means a coast road of nearly 300 miles in length, extending across the state. The result would be the immediate settlement of a big, unoccupied territory which would add immensely to the wealth and population of that portion of the state.

A little band of mandolin players, consisting of 12 young women, headed by Princess Maud of Wales, practice regularly on this charmingly romantic little instrument. During the past season the Princess Maud devoted some of her spare time to studying the mandolin, and became so interested that she succeeded in imparting her enthusiasm to a select party of her friends. The result is that the mandolin is the most fashionable instrument in Europe.

Over $7,000 in greenbacks has been found hidden in a lot of rubbish in the trunk of an eccentric widow, who spent her summer in a cottage near Stonington, Conn., and who died recently. Always on leaving Stonington at the end of the season she left the trunk with a friend, telling him that it contained nothing of account, but she didn't care to have burglars rummaging through it, which would be the case if she were to allow it to remain in the cottage.

Captain Stephen A Bills, of Toms River, N. J., has a very novel set of dominoes, which he prizes very highly. They are made from pieces of twenty eight different wrecks which have come ashore on the Atlantic coast between Barnegat Inlet and Point Pleasant. They were made by Capt. Charles Tilton, of the life saving service, who was ten years in making the collection. Every particular domino has a history, and and Captain Bills likes nothing better than a chance to relate it.

A recent issue of a Trinidad, Col., paper contains the following news item: "There was born yesterday morning to the wife of the Hon. Jesus Maria Garcia, at his residence at Plaza de Garcia, one mile below the city, a daughter. We do not mention this occurrence as a matter of news, as the same accident has occurred to Dom Jesus 17 times, but having contracted the habit of publishing the item we intend to continue it at suitable intervals until there is a change in the program."

The activity in the royal gun factories in Spandau, near Berlin, has almost ceased. A year ago more than 4,000 workmen were employed in the factories. To-day less than one-tenth of that number remain. There is a great discontent among the townspeople in consequence, although disinterested persons look upon the discharge of the laborers as a guarantee of peace. Spandau, by the way, is the scene of the famous well in which part of the money paid as indemnity by France in 1871 is kept.

When one remembers all that has been said the past few years against cosmetics it is discouraging to read that the inventor of one of the newest lotions has within a decade arisen from the obscurity of an ill-paid London seamstress to a fashionable suite in the swell Savoy hotel, where she now derives an income of $30,000 a year by giving lessons in the art of artificial beauty. A balance of $650,000 at her banker's and unlimited hopes of more to follow are proofs that the humbug are still the profitable insect.

The success of electric lighting in railway trains in Europe has led many of the railway companies in this country to seriously consider the introduction of electric illumination in their cars. A late installation, from which important experience is being derived, is in active operation on express trains running between Berlin and Frankfurt. Each car has two distinct storage batteries, and the lamps are on two distinct circuits, so that in case of accident on one circuit, or in changing the batteries, the car is not left entirely without light. The batteries, which weigh six cwt. each, are placed in boxes underneath the carriage floor, and can be taken out and replaced very rapidly.

An invasion of mosquitoes has followed the hot wave on Long Island, New York. They seem to have been hatched by the thousands of millions out of the salt marshes which run up along the southern coast. Having whetted their appetite upon the holiday-makers at Rockaway, Long Beach and other places in that direction, they advanced inland and descended in clouds upon Flatbush, Jamaica and the whole region on the outskirts of Prospect park. Their descent was as sudden as it was unexpected. The air in an instant was thick with them, and all persons on the streets were driven indoors. The oldest inhabitants declared that they had never experienced anything of the kind before. Staten Island and various parts of New Jersey are suffering in like manner.

CENTRAL OHIO M. E. CONFERENCE

IN ANNUAL SESSION.

Preliminary Work Being Performed To-Day.

To-Morrow Regular Business Will be Taken Up.

Brief History of the Body—The Program for the Week—Officials of the Conference—Where Toledo's Guests are Quartered.

INTRODUCTORY.

Some Facts Concerning the Central Ohio Conference.

The Central Ohio conference, which convenes at St. John's Methodist Episcopal church to-morrow, is in reality the conference of Northwestern Ohio, being bound on the north and west by Michigan and Indiana, while its eastern border includes Lakeside, Fremont, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Marion, half of Delaware, and its southern boundary includes Marysville, St. Paris, Sidney and Bradford.

The conference is the youngest of five English conferences in Ohio, the others being Ohio, Cincinnati, East Ohio and North Ohio,, and the Central Ohio was formed by a division of the North Ohio, occurring in 1855, and its first session being held Sept. 25th, 1856, at Lima, Bishop Waugh presiding, and Dr. Wm. L. Harris (afterwards bishop, being elected as secretary. The conference began its existence under the name of Delaware conference, which name was changed to the present strangely inappropriate name for the convenience of Secretary Harris after four years.

The conference comprised substantially at its formation its present territory, and in addition thereto the towns of Cardington, Delhi, Galion, Crestline, and Bucyrus, which were afterwards captured by the North Ohio conference. There were, at its organization, 66 members; six were transferred back from the North Ohio conference, nine were on trial, and 11 were admitted on trial at that first session; two were located and 10 transferred to the North Ohio conference and other conferences, so that the conference began its first year's work with 80 members all told.

Of that number 30 still retain their membership after the lapse of 35 years, and nine are still on the effective list, as follows: Gresham Lease, N. B. C. Love, S. L. Roberts, L. C. Webster, W. W. Winter, J. M. Longfellow, Isaac Newton, B. B. Powell, W. G. Williams. To this list should be added A. Harmount, who began his work within the bounds of the conference, but in the divisions of conference lines was cut off and was not transferred back to his home conference till 1859, but remains effective to-day. The membership at that time in the present boundary consisted of 11,000, and 1,320 probationers; 153 churches, valued at $140,000; 30 parsonages, valued at $17,000.

The sessions of the conferences have been held at Lima, Toledo, West Liberty, Fremont, Bucyrus, Kenton, Greenville, Upper Sandusky, Marion, Bellefontaine, Galion, Fostoria, Lima, Findlay, Toledo, Kenton, Marysville, Van Wert, Sidney, Delaware, Defiance, Bellefontaine, Wauseon, Lima, Van Wert, Marion, Sidney, Findlay, Defiance, Fostoria, Bellefontaine, Fremont, Kenton, Upper Sandusky, Lima and Toledo. This is, therefore, the fourth session in this city.

The conference has had three secretaries, Dr. Harris for five years, Dr. W. G. Williams for 26 years, and the present secretary for four years, Rev. C. W. Taneyhill.

The growth of the conference has been steady and has kept pace with the prosperity of the country. The membership is about three and one-third times that of 35 years ago, showing an increase of 335 per cent., and numbers to-day with the probationers about 40,000.

The 153 churches have become 375, having a value of $1,250,000.

There are 110 parsonages, worth $170,000.

The benevolences have increased about five fold annually over 35 years ago.

Instead of 80 members of the conference, there are 198 on the roll of last year. There are 153 pastoral charges in this conference.

The conference is divided into six districts, containing from 20 to 32 charges, and there are about 60 churches in each of the districts.

As is well known, the pastors are stationed yearly, and may continue five years in any one charge, but cannot then be returned for five years.

The presiding elders are appointed yearly, though rarely removed till the end of four years, the length of the former term, and the term was extended to six years by the last general conference.

The oldest member of the conference is Rev. E. C. Gavitt, D. D., residing in Toledo, aged 84 years. Dr. Gavitt and Joseph Ayres have been in the traveling ministry 61 years. Thirteen have been in the conference over 40 years. Two will reach their semi-centennial year in the conference next year. Dr. A. Harmount entered the conference in 1843, and W. W. Winter in 1842, and have never been off the effective list. They bid fair to complete 50 years of a continuous ministry. Only 55 of the members, these nearly all among the active men, are college graduates, though many others have had college advantages for a term of years, and the conference course of study ranging over a period of four years, after the first examination and admission is severe, covering as much ground as is studied in college and theological seminary combined, excluding the languages, thoroughly ranging over the field of ancient and modern history, mental and moral philosophy and theology.

The only regular conference sessions are held in the morning, from 8:30 to 12 m. The anniversary services, all of which will be addressed by able speakers, are held at 3 p. m. These are all open to visitors. The committee meetings are held at 2 p. m., and are only committee meetings, attending to routine business. A vast amount of work is attended to by committees and secretaries that none appreciate till called to such duty.

The most interesting sessions are usually Wednesday, Friday and Saturday mornings and the last session of the conference.

PRELIMINARY WORK.

Being Put Out of the Way—Down at the Church—Some Matters of Discussion.

St. John's Methodist Episcopal church on Magnolia street is a busy place to-day, where the preliminaries are being completed for the annual session of the Central Ohio conference, which convenes to-morrow morning. Twenty of the pastors arrived last evening, and they have continued to arrive in large numbers to-day. Upon arrival they all report at the church, where Mr. Frank H. Tanner and others are kept busy assigning them to quarters for the conference.

The arrangements for this work is most complete, and it is being carried on without a single hitch. The visitors are being entertained all over the city, some of them being several miles from St. John's church, but as each one reports he is given a card on which is the name and address of his entertainer and full directions regarding street car transportation and how to reach the temporary home. The assignment of visitors thus far has given general satisfaction to both guests and hosts.

The local arrangemeat committee for the conference has labored long and arduously over all the details, and if the meeting is not a success it will not be their fault. Even the little things have been carefully attended to, and everyone is being well cared for. The committee is composed as follows: Rev. J. H. Bethards, chairman; A. B. Hood, secretary, and Messrs. William Beatty, L. J. Seek, F. H. Tanner and G. Hermann.

The church has been well prepared for the sessions of the conference and will be found an excellent place for the sessions. The committee and class rooms are on the basement floor, and neat card signs indicate the use of the various rooms.

The auditorium has been in the hands of the ladies, and their excellent work and good taste is shown in the decorations of flowers and potted plants.

The choir of St. John's church has been rehearsing for several evenings, and will lead the singing at the evening meetings. Mr. L. S. Churchill is the leader, and Miss Flora Van Gorder presides at the organ. The choir is composed of the following: Mrs. E. H. Mauzy, Mrs. L. S. Churchill, sopranos; Miss Ida Swartz, Miss Lizzie Hill, altos; John Emerson and Samson Emerson, tenor; L. S. Churchill and Carroll J. Webster, bass.

The various conference classes are being examined to-day as follows: For admission on trial, examiners, Wm. Deal, I. N. Smith, J. H. Fitzwater; class, E. D. Cook, Isaiah Betts, E. A. Strother, J. A. Hoffman and E. E. McCammon.

First year, examiners, J. M. Mills, Peter Biggs, M. M. Figley; class, W. J. Hagerman, Jesse Swank, Charles Bennett and F. M. Hauser.

Second year, examiners, J. W. Miller, J. M. Avann, G. B. Wiltsie; class, Friend S. Robinson, Morris D. Baumgardner, Frank E. Higbie, Orton D. Wagner, Gilmore L. Hunter, William Culp, Lawrence H. Lindsey, Benjamin F. Gordon, William J. Green, A. L. Hughes.

Third year, examiners, E. D. Whitlock, W. W. Lance, William Dunlap; class, Messrs. D. H. Bailey, W. H. Leatherman, C. E. Rowley, Boardman, Daily, Havighorst, Gardner, Hook, Money, Shaw.

Classes for local deacons' orders and local elders' orders will also be examined.

The examiners state that the members of the classes are showing a high degree of proficiency, and the examinations are proving very successful. The second year class given above will come up before the conference for admission to full membership.

At the church this evening will be held the annual meeting of the Superannuated Preachers' Aid society, followed by a meeting of the conference board of trustees. The meetings are purely for business, and will be of but little general interest to the public.

By to-morrow morning when the conference opens there will be a large attendance of clerical and lay delegates, and this conference bids fair to be most interesting as well as important. Among the important matters to come before the conference, and one which is just now exciting the most interest among delegates, is the election of delegates to the general conference which meets in Omaha next May. A majority of the ministers in the conference aspire to be delegates, but only four are to be chosen with two alternates. The candidates are already on hand in goodly numbers, and the way they work the wires is very much like politics.

The deaconesses home will come up for discussion before the conference, and as Toledo wants to have it located here a big effort is being put forth to bring about that result.

The conference will also vote on the proposition to admit women delegates to the general conference, and some spicy speeches are anticipated on this topic.

CONFERENCE NOTES

Gathered Here and There In and About the Church.

Bishop Newman arrived this afternoon.

About 20 of the pastors arrived last night.

Every convenience will be afforded for the newspaper men.

This is Bishop Newman's first visit to the Central Ohio conference.

There will be nothing of interest to the public at the church to-night.

White-cravated gentlemen are seen in all directions in Toledo to-day.

Conference committees for the session will be announced in the morning.

Gossip relative to changes of pastors is already occupying the attention of the preachers.

Fifteen new churches have been dedicated in the Toledo district during the past four years.

Of the six presiding elders, Messrs. Belt, Lease, Albright, Henderson and Pope have served Toledo charges.

Nearly all Toledo pulpits will be filled by the visiting clergymen next Sunday, morning and evening.

Notwithstanding admonitions to the contrary, many of the preachers will be accompanied by their wives.

Rev. Bethards takes great delight in informing his associates of the time of day, as told by his new watch.

Toledoans generally will say that there is no appointment in the gift of the conference too good for Mr. Bethards.

The lay conference will not convene until Friday morning. The sessions will be held at St. Paul's church.

Judge Lawrence, of Bellefontaine, candidate for lay delegate to the general conference, will be here to-morrow.

There will be other changes in the Toledo pastorates besides Rev. Bethards, whose term of service expires by limitation.

One of the pleasing attractions of the conference will be the 30-minute address of Bishop Newman each morning prior to the business session.

Epworth league anniversary exercises to-morrow afternoon will be a feature, and a general invitation is extended to all interested to be present.

Chairman Bethards, Secretary Hood, and Mr. Frank H. Tanner, of the committee on arrangements, have had their hands full assigning the visitors.

The benefit of the city's fine street car system is felt just now. The ministers are quartered in all parts, but can reach the church in short order from any point.

St. John's church has agreed on a pastor whose name will be presented to the bishop by Presiding Elder Pope at the proper time. He will be backed by a united membership.

Candidates for ministerial and lay delegates to the general conference are as thick as autumn leaves. It is wonderful how many of the brethren are in the hands of their friends.

Dr. A. B Leonard, the missionary secretary who delivers the address on Thursday evening, is regarded by many as a coming bishop. He was the candidate of Ohio prohibitionists for governor a few years since.

Through the courtesy of Mr. John W. Callard, two Stevens filters are located in the vestibule, filled with pure Maumee water, from which the ministers may find the necessary to slake their thirst. Mr. L. J. Seek furnishes a liberal supply of ice.

Mr. S. W. Flower, who delivers the address of welcome to the conference in the morning, has been a working Methodist for over thirty years, and is one of the strong pillars of St. John's church. His address will be a masterly one.

MUSIC IN THE CHURCH.

Dr. Talmage on an Interesting Subject.

It Was Commanded by God and Cannot Be Other Than Good.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 21.—The magnificent organ of the new Brooklyn tabernacle was dedicated Sunday. The services were veritable musical festivals. While the regular musical program of the tabernacle is always attractive, that of Sunday was exceptionally beautiful, the congregational singing, offertories, and interludes being rendered with marvelous volume and expression.

Dr. Talmage's sermon, which was appropriate to the occasion, was on the text, Genesis iv., 21: "His brother's name was Jubal; he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ."

Lamech had two boys, the one a herdsman and the other a musician. Jubal, the younger son, was the first organ builder He started the first sound that rolled from the wondrous instrument which has had so much to do with the worship of the ages. But what improvement has been made under the hands of organ builders such as Bernhard, Sebastian Bach, and George Hogarth and Joseph Booth and Thomas Robjohn, clear on down to George and Edward Jardine of our own day. I do not wonder that when the first full organ that we read of as given in 757 by an emperor of the east to a king of France sounded forth its full grandeur a woman fell into a delirium from which her reason was never restored. The majesty of a great organ skillfully played is almost too much for human endurance; but how much the instrument has raised the reinforcement of divine service it will take all time and all eternity to celebrate. Last April when we dedicated this church to the service of Almighty God our organ was not more than half done. It has now come so near completion that this morning I preach a sermon dedicatory of this mighty throne of sacred sound. It greets the eye as well as the ear. Behold this mountain of Anthems! This forest of Hosannahs! Its history is peculiar. The late Mr. George Jardine recently made a tour of the organs of Europe. He gathered up in his portfolio an account of all the excellences of the renowned instruments of music on the other side of the Atlantic and all the new improvements, and brought back that portfolio to America, declaring that Brooklyn Tabernacle should have the full advantage of all he had obtained, and although he did not live to carry out his idea, his son Mr. Edward Jardine has introduced into this great organ all those improvements and grandeurs, and while you hear this organ you hear all that is notable in the organs of Lucerne, and Fribourg, and Haarlem, and St. Paul, and Westminster Abbey, and other great organs that have enraptured the world. In it are banked up more harmonies than I can describe, and all for God and the lighting of the world toward him. Its four banks of keys, its one hundred and ten stops and appliances, its four thousand five hundred and ten pipes, its chime of thirty-seven bells, its cathedral diapason, and pedal double diapason, its song trumpet and night horn and vox humana, all, all, we dedicate to God and the soul. It will I believe under the divine blessing lead uncounted thousands into the kingdom. Its wedding marches, as the bridegroom of heaven, its epicenes, will sound after all the voices that follow it to-day shall have sung their last song. To God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost we dedicate it!

There has been much discussion as to where music was born. I think that at the beginning, when the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy, that the earth heard the echo. The cloud on which the angel stood to celebrate the creation, was the birthplace of song. Inanimate nature is full of God's stringed and wind instruments. Silence itself—perfect silence—is only a rest in God's great anthem of worship. Wind among the leaves, insects humming in the summer air, the rush of the billow upon beach, the ocean far out sounding its everlasting psalm, the bobolink on the edge of the forest, the quail whistling up from the grass, are music. On Blackwell's Island I heard coming from a window of the lunatic asylum, a very sweet song. It was sung by one who had lost her reason, and I have come to believe that even the deranged and disordered elements of nature would make music to our ears, if we only had acuteness enough to listen. I suppose that even the sounds in nature that are discordant and repulsive make harmony in God's ear. You know that you may come so near to an orchestra that the sounds are painful instead of pleasureable; and I think we stand so near devastating storm and frightful whirlwind, we cannot hear that which makes to God's ear and the ear of the spirits above us, a music as complete as it is tremendous.

The day of judgement, which will be a day of uproar and tumult, I suppose will bring no dissonance to the ears of those who can calmly listen, although it be as when some great performer is executing a boisterous piece of music, he sometimes breaks down the instrument on which he plays, so it may be on that last day that the grand march of God, played by the fingers of thunder, and earthquake, and conflagration, may break down the world upon which the music is executed. Not only as inanimate nature full of music, but God has wonderfully organized the human voice, so that in the plainest throat and lungs there are 14 direct muscles which can make over sixteen thousand different sounds, and there are 13 different muscles which can make, it has been estimated, more than one hundred and seventy-three millions of sounds! Now, I say, when God has so constructed the human voice, and when he has filled the whole earth with harmony, and when he recognized it in the ancient temple I have a right to come to the conclusion that God loved music.

I propose, this morning, in setting apart this organ for sacred use, to speak about sacred music, first showing you its importance, and then stating some of the obstacles to its advancement.

I draw the first argument for the importance of sacred music from the fact that God commanded it. Through Paul he tells us to admonish one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs; and through David he cries out: "Sing ye to God, all ye kingdoms of the earth." And there are hundreds of other passages I might name, proving that it is as much a man's duty to sing as it is his duty to pray. Indeed, I think there are more commands in the Bible to sing than there are to pray. God not only asks for the human voice but for instruments of music. He asks for the cymbal, and the harp, and the trumpet, as well as the organ. And I suppose that, in the last days of the church, the harp, the lute, the trumpet, and all the instruments of music, whether they have been in the service of righteousness or sin, will be brought by their masters and laid down at the feet of Christ, and then sounded in the church's triumph on her way from suffering into glory. "Praise ye the Lord." Praise him with your voices. Praise him with stringed instruments and with organs.

I draw another argument for the importance of this exercise, from the impressiveness of this exercise. You know something of what secular music has achieved. You know it has made its impression on governments, upon laws, upon literature, upon whole generations. One inspiring national air is worth 30,000 men as a standing army. There comes a time in the battle when one bugle is worth a thousand muskets. I have to tell you that no nation or church can afford to severely economize in music.

Many of you have illustrations of what the sacred song can do. Through it you were brought into the kingdom of Jesus Christ. You stood out against the argument and the warning of the pulpit; but when, in the sweet words of Isaac Watts, or Charles Wesley, or John Newton, or Toplady, the love of Jesus was sung to your soul, then you surrendered, as armed castle, that you could not be taken by a host, lifts its window to listen to a maid's thrill. There was a Scotch soldier dying in New Orleans, and a Scotch minister came in to give him the consolations of the gospel. The man turned over on his pillow, and said: "Don't talk to me about religion." Then the Scotch minister began to sing a familiar hymn of Scotland, that was composed by David Dickenson, beginning with the words:

Oh, mother, dear Jerusalem,
When shall I come to thee?

He sang it to the tune of "Dundee," and everybody in Scotland knows that; and as the dying soldier turned he began to sing the familiar air to the minister. "Why, I used to learn that!" "Why," replied the minister, "my mother taught me that." "So did mine," said the dying Scotch soldier; and the very foundation of his heart was upturned, and then and there he yielded himself to Christ. Oh, it has an irresistible power. Luther's sermons have been forgotten, but his "Judgment Hymn" sings on through the ages and will keep on singing until the blast of the archangel's trumpet shall bring about that very day which the hymn celebrates. I would to God that those who hear me, today, would take these songs of salvation as messages from heaven; for, just as certainly as the birds brought food to Elijah, by the brook Cherith, so these winged harmonies, God-sent, are flying to your soul with the bread of life. Open your mouths and take it, O hungry Elijahs!

In addition to the inspiring music of our own day we have a glorious inheritance of church psalmody which has come down fragrant with the devotions of other generations—tunes no more worn out than they were when our great-grandfathers climbed up on them from the church pew to glory! Dear old souls, how they used to sing! When they were cheerful, our grandfathers and grandmothers taught to sing "Colchester." When they were very meditative, then the board meeting-house rang with "South Street" and "St. Edmond's." Were they struck through with great tenderness, they sang "Woodstock." Were they wrapped in visions of the glory of the church, they sang "Zion." Were they overborne with the love and glory of Christ, they sang "Ariel." And in those days there were certain tunes married to certain hymns, and they have lived in peace great while, these two old people, and we have no right to divorce them. "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder." But how hard-hearted we must be if all this sacred music of the past, and all the sacred music of the present does not start heavenward.

I have also noticed the power of sacred song to soothe perturbation. You may have come in here, this morning, with a great many worriments and anxieties, yet, perhaps in the singing of the first hymn, you lost all those worriments and anxieties. You have read in the Bible of Saul and how he was sad and angry, and how the boy David came in and played the evil spirit out of him. A Spanish king was melancholy. The windows were all closed. He sat in the darkness. Nothing could bring him forth until Farenelli came and discoursed music for three or four days to him. On the fourth day he looked up and wept, and rejoiced, and the windows were thrown open, and that which all the splendors of the court could not do, the power of song accomplished. If you have anxieties and worriments, try this heavenly charm upon them. Do not sit down on the bank of the hymn, but plunge in, that the devil of care may be brought out of you.

It also arouses to action. A singing church is also a triumphant church! If a congregation is silent during the exercise, or partially silent, it is the silence of death. Sometimes when I look out, you hear the faint hum of hers and there's father and mother in Israel, while the vast majority are silent, that minister of Christ who is presiding needs to have a very strong constitution if he does not get the chills. He needs not only the grace of God, but nerves like whalebone. It is amazing how some people, who have voice enough to charge all the batteries in the world, when they come into the house of God have no voice to discharge this duty. I really believe that if the church of Christ could rise up and sing as it ought to sing, that where we have a hundred souls brought into the kingdom of Christ, there would be a thousand.

But I must now speak of some of the obstacles in the way of the advancement of this sacred music, and the first is that it has been impressed into the service of superstition. I am far from believing that music ought always to be positively religious. Refined art has opened places where music has been secularized, and lawfully so. The drawing-room, the musical club, the orchestra, the concert, by the gratification of pure taste, and the production of harmless amusement and the improvement of talent, have become great forces in the advancement of our civilization. Music has as much right to laugh in Surrey Gardens as it has to pray in St. Paul's. In the kingdom of nature we have the glad fling of the wind as well as the long metre psalm of the thunder. But while all this is so, every observer has noticed that this art, which God intended for the improvement of the ear, and the voice, and the head, and the heart, has often been impressed into the service of false religions. False religions have depended more upon the hymning of their congregations than upon the pulpit proclamations of their dogma. Take the musical composer, dreamed one night that Satan snatched from his hand an instrument and played upon it something very sweet—a dream that has often been fulfilled in our day. the voice and the instruments that ought to have been devoted to Christ, captured from the church and applied to purposes of superstition.

Another obstacle has been an inordinate fear of criticism. The vast majority of the people singing in church, more afraid of anybody else to hear them sing. Everybody is waiting for somebody else to do his duty. If we all sang then the inaccuracies would not be heard at all; they would be drowned out. God only asks you to do as well as you can, and then, if you get the wrong pitch, or keep wrong time, he will forgive any deficiency of the ear and imperfection of the voice. Angels will not laugh at you should lose your place in the musical scale, come in at the close a bar behind. There are three schools of singing, I am told—the German school, the Italian school, and the French school of singing. Now, I would like to add a fourth school, and that is the school of Christ. The voice of a contrite, broken heart, although it may not be able to stand human criticism, makes better music to God's ear than the most artistic performance upon which heart is wanting. I know it is easier to preach on this than it is to practice, but I sing for two reasons—first, because I like it, and next because I want to once urge those who do not know how. I have but very little faculty in that direction, yet I am resolved to sing. God has commanded it, and I dare not be silent. He calls on the beasts, on the cattle, on the dragons to praise him, and we ought not to be behind the cattle and the dragons.

Another obstacle that has been in the way of the advancement of his holy art has been the fact that there has been so much angry discussion on the subject of music. There are those who would have this exercise conducted by musical instruments. In the same church there are those who do not like musical instruments, and so it is organ and no organ and there is a fight. In another church it is a question whether the music shall be conducted by a precentor or by a drilled choir. Some want a drilled choir and some want a precentor, and there is a fight. Then there are those who would like in the church to have the organ played in a dull, lifeless, droning way, while there are others who would have it wreathed into fantastics, branching out in jets and spangles of sound, rolling and tossing in marvelous evolutions, as when, in pyrotechnic display, after you think a piece is exhausted, it breaks out in wheels, rockets, blue lights and serpentine demonstrations. Some would have the organ played in almost inaudible sweetness, and others would have it full of staccato passages that makes the audience jump, with great eyes and hair on end, as though by a vision of the Witch of Endor. And the who tries to please all will fail in everything. Nevertheless, you are to admit the fact that this contest which is going on, not in hundreds but in thousands of the churches of the United States today, is a mighty hindrance to the advancement of this art. In this way scores and scores of churches are entirely crippled as to all influence, and the music is a damage rather than a praise.

Another obstacle in the advancement of this art has been the erroneous notion that this part of the service could be conducted by delegation. Churches have said: "On what an easy time we shall have. This minister will do the preaching, the choir will do the singing, and we will have nothing to do." And you know as well as I that there are a great multitude of churches all through this land, where the people are not expected to sing, the whole work is done by delegation of four, or six, or ten performers, and the audience are silent. In such a church in Syracuse, an old elder persisted in singing, and so the choir appointed a committee to go and ask the squire if he would not stop. You know that in a great multitude of churches, the choir are expected to do all the singing, and the great mass of the people are expected to be silent, and if you utter your voice you are interfering. Take the four stand, the four, with opera glass dangling at their side, singing "Rock of Ages, cleft for me," with the same spirit that the night before, on the stage, they took part in the "Grand Duchess" or "Don Giovanni."

My Christian friends, have we a right to delegate to others the discharge of this duty which God demands of us? Suppose that four wood-thrushes should propose to do all the singing some bright day when the woods are ringing with bird voices. It is decided that four wood thrushes shall do all the singing of the forest. Let all other voices keep silent. How beautiful the four warble. It is really fine music. But how long will you keep the forest still? Why, Christ would come into the forest and look up as he looked through the olives, and he would wave his hand and say: "Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord;" and, keeping time with the stroke of innumerable wings, there would be five thousand bird voices leaping into the harmony. Suppose this delegation of musical performers were tried in heaven; suppose that four choice spirits should try to do the singing of the upper temple. Hush now, thrones and dominions, and principalities. David! be still, though you were "the sweet singer of Israel." Paul! keep quiet, though you have come to that crown of rejoicing. Richard Baxter! keep still, though this is the "Saint's everlasting Rest." Four spirits now do all the singing. But how long would heaven be quiet? "Hallelujah!" would cry some glorified Methodist from under the altar. "Praise the Lord" would sing the martyrs from among the thrones. "Thanks be unto God who giveth the victory!" a great multitude of redeemed spirits would cry. Myriads of voices coming into the harmony, and the 144,000 breaking forth into one acclamation. Stop that loud singing! Stop! Oh, no, they cannot hear me. You might as well try to drown the thunder of the sky, or beat back the roar of the sea, for every soul in heaven has resolved to do its own singing. Alas! that we should have tried on earth that which they cannot do in heaven, and, instead of joining all our voices in the praise of the Most High God, delegating perhaps to unconsecrated men and women this most solemn and most delightful service.

Now, in this church, we have resolved upon the plan of conducting the music by organ and cornet. We do it for two reasons: one is that by throwing the whole responsibility upon the mass of the people, making the great multitude the choir, we might rouse more heartiness. The congregation coming on the Sabbath day feel that they cannot delegate this part of the great service to any one else, so they themselves assume it. We have had a glorious congregational singing here. People have come many miles to hear it. They are not sure about the preaching, but they can always depend on the singing. We have heard the sound coming up like "the voice of many waters," but it will be done at a better rate after awhile when we shall realize the height, and the depth, and the immensity of this privilege.

I forgot to state the other reason why we adopted this plan. That is, we do not want any choir quarrels. You know very well that in scores of churches there has been perpetual contention in that direction. The only church fight that ever occurred under my ministry was over a melodeon, in my first settlement. Have you ever been in church on the Sabbath day, and heard the choir sing, and you said, "That is splendid music." The next Sabbat, you were in that church, and there was no choir at all. Why? The leader was mad, or his assistants were mad, or they were all mad together. Some of the choirs are made up of our best Christian people. Some of the warmest friends I have ever had have stood up in them, Sabbath after Sabbath, conscientiously and successfully leading the praises of God. But the majority of the choirs throughout the land are not made up of Christian people, and three-fourths of the church fights originate in the organ loft. I take that back and say nine-tenths. A great many of our churches are dying of choirs.

We want to rouse all our families to the duty of sacred song. We want each family of our congregation to be a singing school. Childish petulance, obduracy and intractableness should be soothed if we had more singing in the household, and then our little ones would be prepared for the great congregation on the Sabbath day, their voices uniting with our voices in the praises of the Lord. After a shower there are scores of streams that come down the mountain side with voices rippling and silvery, pouring into one river and then rolling in united strength to the sea. So I would have all the families of our church send forth the voice of prayer and praise, pouring it into the great tide of public worship that rolls on and on to empty into the great, wide heart of God. Never can we have our church sing as it ought until our families sing as they ought.

There will be a great revolution on this subject in all our churches. God will come down by his spirit and rouse up the old hymns and tunes that have not been more than half awake since the time of our grandfathers. The silent pews in the church will break forth into music, and when the conductor takes his place on the Sabbath day there will be a great host of voices rushing into the harmony. My Christian friends, if we have no taste for this service on earth, what will we do in heaven, where they all sing, and sing forever!

I want to rouse you to a unanimity in Christian song that has never yet been exhibited. Come, now, clear your throats, and get ready for this duty, or you will never hear the end of this. I never shall forget hearing a Frenchman sing the "Marseillaise" on the Champs Elysees, Paris, just before the battle of Sedan in 1870. I never saw such enthusiasm before or since. As he sang that national air, oh! how the Frenchmen shouted! Have you ever in an English assemblage heard a band play "God Save the Queen?" If you have you know something about the enthusiasm of a national air. Now, I tell you that these songs we sing Sabbath by Sabbath are the national airs of Jesus Christ and of the kingdom of heaven, and if you do not learn to sing them here how do you ever expect to sing the song of Moses and the Lamb? I should not be surprised at all if some of the best anthems of heaven were made up of some of the best songs of earth. May God increase our reverence for Christian psalmody and keep us from disgracing it by our indifference and frivolity. When Cromwell's army went into battle he stood at the head of them one day and gave out the long-meter doxology to the tune of the "Old Hundredth," and that great host, company by company, regiment by regiment, battalion by battalion, joined in the doxology:

Praise God from whom all blessings flow.
Praise him, all creatures here below,
Praise Him above, ye heavenly host,
Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

And while they sang they marched, and while they marched they fought, and while they fought they got the victory. O men and women of Jesus Christ, let us go into all our conflicts singing the praises of God, and then, instead of falling back, as we often do, from defeat to defeat, we will be marching on from victory to victory.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost, as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

WHAT PRESENT STOCKHOLDERS SAY:

TALLAPOOSA, Ga., Aug. 22, 1891.

We, the undersigned, stockholders of the Georgia-Alabama Investment and Development Company, being in the city of Tallapoosa for the purpose of investigating the proprietors of the Company, and the location, advantages and development of the city, hereby testify:

First, That we find each and every statement made by the company in their printed matter regarding the City of Tallapoosa, the manufacturing industries, building developments under way, and property and prospects of the Company much within the facts as now existing.

Second, That we find the actual situation at Tallapoosa is much understated, rather than overstated, by the Company, in every particular, all representations made being fully verified by investigation on the ground, and many advantages of great importance not being mentioned either in their prospectus or other printed matter; in fact, we find the situation at Tallapoosa in every respect much more promising and far better than we had reason to expect from the statements made by the Company in their various publications.

CATHOLICS IN SESSION.

A Grand Parade in Buffalo Last Night.

Fifteen Thousand People in Line.

Grand Illuminations Seen on All Sides—The Deliberations of the Congress Secret.

Buffalo, Sept. 22.—Behind closed doors there went into session in this city twelve apostles of the much-talked-of "priesten verein," or German-American Clerical Union, yesterday. It was the first of the series of meetings of the congress of German-American Catholics.

Vicar-General von Muhlsiepen, of St. Louis, president of the verein called the meeting to order. The business was the scrutiny of documents, resolutions and motions which there was an intention on the part of any one to bring up in the proceedings of the various sections of the congress.

The dozen men to whom this work was committed were, without exception, priests, and all members of the clerical union. Six were others and others of the union at large, including President Muhlsiepen and Secretary Foerber, the latter also a St. Louis clergyman.

The remaining half dozen present were Buffalo members of the verein, the most conspicuous of whom was the Rev. Father Hoheischer, the chancellor of this diocese. No one else was admitted to the meeting save persons in turn who desired to submit in writing matters for the consideration of the committee of censors.

Meanwhile general attention centered in the preparation for the torchlight parade announced for the evening, and in welcoming the successive waves of new arrivals. One delegation alone, that from Rochester, numbered 1,500 people.

Among the distinguished guests was the well-known Bishop Wigger, of New Jersey, whose attitude on the school question and similar burning topics have frequently attracted wide attention. This liveliest interest was manifested as to what extent Bishop Ryan, of Buffalo, would participate in the congress.

His sudden disappearance from the public ceremonials yesterday was attributed to illness, and that reason was the only one quoted in this morning's paper.

Before the censorship meeting ended the number within had greatly increased, aggregating several score. All, however, were priests and members of the clerical union. So far as could be ascertained, not a single layman put in an appearance to submit anything to be passed upon.

Nevertheless, the committee remained in session over two hours. It was explained that the laymen acted in the matter through their respective clerical representatives, and that personal attendance on the part of lay delegates before the censors was unnecessary. It is definitely known that not all the papers passed upon are allowed to reach a further stage than the waste basket.

One of the priests said that whatever appeared inharmonious with the purpose of the congress was excluded, and that the priests determined to steer clear in the public proceedings of all aggressions and accusations. Before adjournment the meeting appointed a committee to prepare a report of the proceedings for publication.

Piercing the sky like pillars of flame the spires of ten exclusively German-American Catholic churches in Buffalo shone down last night on one of the most remarkable pageants probably ever witnessed in the United States.

It was an illuminated procession of the organized bodies connected with those ten churches and their neighbors from adjacent cities.

The thoroughfare was jammed with people from the houses to the street car tracks as far as the eye could reach, while windows and other points of vantage were so thick with spectators that only their heads seemed anywhere visible. Continuous streams of rockets and Roman candles made the street an arch of fire, underneath which swing myriads of Chinese lanterns in festoons. On foot and horseback and in carriages the parade advanced, with thousands of torches, till it appeared unending. The line included hundreds of Catholic knights, with their polished swords, hundreds more unarmed but uniformed members of the Catholic Legion, cadets and parish devotional, literary and benevolent societies innumerable.

A careful estimate, neither exaggerating nor belittling, placed the actual number in line at little, if any, short of 15,000. To this it should be noted such places as Pittsburg and Rochester, as well as others like Tonawanda, Lancaster, Lockport and Dunkirk, contributed largely.

TOM IS FOR MILLS.

The Ohio Campaign Reviewed in Washington.

Betting Men are Putting Their Money on the Butler County Mascot.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Interest here in the Ohio campaign is being heightened every day by the arrival of prominent and truthful men in all parties who report to the president and others that Gov. Campbell's appearance on the stump and his organizing powers are brightening his prospects of success wonderfully.

Campbell's friends are offering now to bet on his success. Congressman-elect Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, is here, having leased a splendid residence at the corner of K and Fifteenth street, for a couple of years.

He says: "Governor Campbell is going to be re-elected. The republicans are trying to dodge the tariff and go off on the silver tangent. They will not stick to the dual issues of tariff and money. I am for Mills for speaker and Grover Cleveland for president, because they are logical candidates for these offices. As between a revenue tariff and a protective tariff my preference is for the former, and reforms must come about a step at a time.

I am also a believer in free silver coinage, but that is not the paramount issue and can be kept in abeyance till the greater victory is won. With a single tax on land values we need no other form of revenue. I think Mr. Mills will strengthen his candidacy by the series of speeches he is now making in Ohio. I don't know just how he stands with the delegation from my state, except that Congressman Harter is as thoroughly committed to him as I am. Of the 11 new democratic Ohio members I would expect Mr. Mills to be the favorite."

NEWS FROM FINDLAY.

Democratic Clubs to Take the Field.

A Rousing Campaign From This Time On—Mention From the Brilliant City.

Findlay, O., Sept. 22.—(Special)—Each of the eight wards of the city will have rousing democratic clubs organized at once to assist in every way to boom the re-election of Gov. Campbell. Besides these the permanent democratic club has elected new officers and is getting ready for work and the young men held a meeting last evening for the same purpose at M. D. Shafer's law office.

The coming campaign promises to be quite warm in this city.

To the Works.

Thomas Mitchell was fined $11.15 in Mayor Meehan's court yesterday for assaulting Morris Stanley on August 16. He will be obliged to go to the Toledo works in default of payment.

Pioneer Dead.

Jacob Shoemaker, who has resided in Union township, this county, for 43 years past, died on Saturday evening of heart failure, aged 75 years. He leaves a widow and but two living children out of a family of eleven, Mrs. H. P. Crouse, this city, and Mrs. G. W. Watkins, of Union township. The funeral occurred yesterday and was largely attended.

Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Rachael Kelly, the aged mother of ex-County Commissioner Charles Kelly, of Washington township, is lying at the point of death at the home of her son. She is 98 years old and probably the oldest person living in this county. Her family and friends hoped she would live to be a centenarian.

The remains of Mrs. Carr, who died at Ottawa, were brought here for burial yesterday. The family resided here.

Chicken Thieves.

Robert Solomon and Charles McCurdy had a hearing before Mayor Meehan yesterday on the charge of stealing chickens from the coop of John Snyder, at the south end. There has been a great amount of this kind of stealing done in different parts of the city.

CAN START A NEW BANK.

Bold Robbers Make a Gigantic Haul.

Nearly, If Not Fully, a Million Dollars Stolen From a London House.

London, Sept. 22.—The banking world of this city has just been startled by the announcement that a bank robbery has taken place in the city.

The institution that has suffered is the London and Westminster bank (limited), No. 41 Lathbury, E. C., an important establishment having over 15 branch houses in this city.

The money stolen, it would appear, consisted of a large parcel of bills remitted from the country banks to the London and Westminster bank.

The thief or thieves must have cleverly watched for the proper opportunity to accomplish the robbery and to have gained access to an apartment near the main entrance to the bank. This apartment was easy of access from the street and the parcel of bills is supposed to have been stolen while the bank officials were busily engaged in another department, in going over the accounts of last week's settlement.

Both Mr. William Astle, the town manager of the bank, and Mr. H. F. Billinghurst, the county manager, decline to make any statement for publication as to the actual loss incurred by the London and Westminster bank, but it is currently reported that the amount stolen is not less than $750,000 and that it may amount to as much as $1,250,000.

The bank officers, the city police authorities and the criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard are putting forth the utmost exertions in order to effect the capture of the thieves.

Notice of the robbery has been sent to the police centers throughout the British isles and on the continent and the sailing of every passenger vessel is being watched.

Notice of the robbery has also been sent to all the banks upon which the bills were drawn, but the police theory is that no attempt will be made to change the bills in this country, but that the thieves will have recourse to the continent, where the presence of so many wealthy travelers from England and the United States makes such transactions easier than in this country.

JERSEY PIRATES.

They Board the American Ship Normania.

A Boat Load of Emigrants Handled Roughly by the Natives of Our Coast.

New York, Sept. 22.—Capt. Hebich, of the Hamburg-American ship Normania, had an experience with "Jersey pirates," as he calls them, that he is not likely to forget. "Early Saturday morning," said Capt. Hebich, "when my ship was 25 miles off Sandy Hook, I saw a wedge shaped black cloud swiftly moving in our direction.

Seen through a marine glass the cloud was about 10 miles long and three miles wide at its base, from whence it tapered to a point. When first seen," he continued, "it was about 12 miles off, and the apex of the wedge was pointed directly at the vessel. This moving body obscured the sun and, by the great tycoon," he exclaimed, "it was a cloud of mosquitoes. They enveloped the ship and attacked the passengers and crew with a bloodthirsty voracity.

"Three hundred steerage passengers huddled on the deck were appalled by the thousands of vicious mites that attacked every exposed bit of skin," said Capt. Hebich. "The men swore like Barbary pirates, the women yelled and the babies shrieked. No one," he added, "ever saw such a pandemonium on shipboard. Had a vessel passed its officers would certainly have thought we had a mutiny on board. The crew and passengers rushed below; but they were no better off there than on deck, for the insects were so thick in the cabin that you could only with difficulty crowd through them.

"We got the crew on deck, but so busy were they kept slapping and fighting their tormentors that they could not work the ship. When we reached Sandy Hook a stiff breeze came up and blew the mosquitos seaward. Everybody on board was swathed in bandages, sopping with arnica, whitehazel and ammonia. But you should have heard the emigrants' comments on a country infested by such bloodsucking creatures. Many of them said they would not remain here."

EVERYONE SNEEZING.

Colds Remarkably Prevalent—Will the Grip Return—Dangers of Pneumonia.

Have you noticed the unusual number of colds possessed by your acquaintances this year? There seems to be no particular reason why the fall of this year should be more trying than usual, but, nevertheless it is a fact. Those who know something of these matters say that this extraordinary prevalence of colds is the forerunner of another visitation of the grip. Whether it may turn out so or not, a thing everyone should do is to get rid of a cold as soon as possible on account of the danger to which a person with a "little cold" is exposed. Pneumonia no one wishes to face, and it is no exaggeration to state that 50 per cent. of deaths from this cause could have been averted if the cold out of which they grew had been cured.

By far the best method of ridding oneself of a cold is to take a little pure stimulant in water and keep warm after having done so. The greatest care and prompt measures should be taken at the slightest sign of the approach of pneumonia. If you have a tickling in the throat tightness of the chest, pain in the head, a chilly feeling or pains throughout the body, immediately use some pure stimulant to promote the circulation and avert the catastrophe. It should be particularly borne in mind that to be of the required value the stimulant (whiskey preferably) must be pure, and Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which can be obtained of your druggist or grocer, meets the requirements. It is standard and reliable, and the fact that it has received the indorsements of the leading scientists and physicians of the present day is the best guarantee of its usefulness as a medicine. Insist upon having it and do not allow the salesman to sell you a substitute which he may recommend as "just as good." There is no other medicinal whiskey which equals Duffy's Pure Malt in purity and excellence.

TIME INSPECTION.

An Important Branch of Railway Service.

Mr. William Walcott Given Charge of the Watches on This Division of the Lake Shore.

The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad has established a time inspection service over the lines of its road and by it all employes are to have their watches inspected, regulated and repaired. This has become an important department in railway service, as the safety of many lives and much property depends upon the accuracy of the time pieces in the hands of railway employes, especially conductors and engineers.

For this time inspection service the road is divided into divisions, each of which has its division inspector. For the Toledo division the railroad company has made an exceptionally excellent choice in the appointment of Mr. Wm. Walcott, of this city.

This appointment came to Mr. Walcott entirely unsolicited, and he was chosen for this responsible position for the simple reason that his establishment is best fitted for this work, and the railway company have confidence that Mr. Walcott can take better care of the watches than any other jeweler on the line.

The company have a rather curious but very effective way of making these appointments, and the Toledo case presents a good example. On August 15, a strange gentleman appeared at Mr. Walcott's store, and under the pretense of buying a fine watch, made numerous inquiries as to the manner in which fine watches were handled in the establishment, and he also made keen inquiries into the repairing and regulating work. Later in the day the same gentleman appeared again and made similar inquiries from another salesman, but still did not reveal his real business.

The curious stranger returned a third time, and after questioning Mr. Walcott himself regarding his business, he made known his own mission.

The gentleman was Mr. Webb C. Ball, of the Ball Jewelry company, Cleveland, and chief inspector of the time service of the Lake Shore Railway company. He stated that his business in Toledo was to appoint a division inspector of time service for the road, and he tendered the position to Mr. Walcott. Mr. Ball had quietly come to the city and without making known his business, had carefully investigated the watch departments of the different jewelers in the city. By this means he came to the conclusion that Mr. Walcott's watch department was the most efficient, and therefore tendered him the position.

The matter was thoroughly discussed and as Mr. Walcott accepted, the contract was closed. This time service went into effect last Sunday, and the road has issued circulars regarding it to all employes. Chief Inspector Ball has also issued circulars.

Mr. Walcott is also time inspector for the Pennsylvania railroad, and his head watchmaker, Mr. Louis Comlossy, was at one time holding the same position with Bingham & Walter, of Indianapolis, when that road had the time inspection service of the Western division of the Pan Handle railroad.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

HANLAN'S LAURALS.

He Feels Confident That He Will Win the Race.

New Westminster, B. C., Sept. 22.—Hanlan's defeat by McLean, yesterday, has not discouraged him. On the contrary he is now more confident than ever of winning the great race on Thursday. His new world beating record, 19 minutes, 32¼ seconds, has astonished everybody, including Dutch, Stephenson and O'Connor. Dutch and Stephenson are in magnificent form for the coming race and the former is gradually increasing in favor. The final struggle is expected to between him and O'Connor. Dutch is the most ungainly looking of the four but he is by long odds the most powerful, and his tremendous staying qualities. O'Connor says he never felt more fit for a hard race than at the present time.

LABOR CONGRESS.

Berne, Sept. 22.—The international labor congress for the consideration of the questions of accidents to workmen, liability therefor, and for the best means of preventing them, opened in this city today. Of the 100 delegates present four are Americans. The Swiss minister of foreign affairs addressed the convention and welcomed the delegates.

Warm weather often causes extreme tired feeling and debility, and in the weakened condition of the system, diseases arising from impure blood are liable to appear. To gain strength, to overcome disease, and to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.
